FOREWORD

One event of outstanding importance justifies the publication of this Second Volume of "The History of the Brigham Family"—the discovery of the true story of the English origin of the Brigham Family, of which, in the First Volume, all existing knowledge began with the arrival in this country of Thomas Brigham, the Puritan, in 1635. Mr. J. Gardner Bartlett, one of the most competent of New England genealogists, had gone to England in 1914 to trace the British ancestry of Simon Crosby, who was a fellow passenger with Thomas Brigham in the Susan and Ellen, and whose wife was Ann Brigham, a double first cousin of Thomas. While engaged in research in the interest of the Crosby family, Mr. Bartlett found the authentic record of the family from which Thomas<sup>1</sup> Brigham had descended. Recognizing its importance to the Brigham family in this country, Mr. Bartlett wrote it out into an informative and readable narrative, and kindly tendered it to the officials of the Brigham Family Association, at a price which testified rather to his zeal in the science which he adorns than to any desire for personal profit. Our gratitude for his generosity and our indebtedness for his enterprise and the priceless information he has imparted to us is unbounded.

The highly important Introduction to Mr. Bartlett's English genealogical data by our own Herbert O. Brigham, State Librarian of Rhode Island, in Providence, R. I., opens the story of our English origin and lineage with vivid touches of history which enlarge our view of the movements in England which sent our ancestor to America.

The late Willard I. T. Brigham, author of the First Volume of "The History of the Brigham Family," spent many months in the study of the British records in a futile effort to trace the origin and ancestry of Thomas the Emigrant of 1635; and we are much gratified to be able to state that the authoritative record as discovered by Mr. Bartlett confirms Willard's tentative conclusion that Thomas of Cambridge, Massachusetts, was born in and emigrated from Yorkshire.

It becomes important to state, because of the many inquiries regarding a Brigham Coat of Arms, that none of the descendants of Thomas<sup>1</sup> in this country are entitled, through him, to use any of the numerous Coats of Arms borne by Brigham families in England. Mr. Willard I. T. Brigham held the idea at one time that Thomas came from the family of Cannon End, Oxfordshire, England. He later repudiated this but had, meanwhile, prepared copies in colors of the Arms borne by this family, as described on page 19 of the H. B. F. These were widely distributed and many Brighams have preserved such copies. Pins and spoons showing these Arms were given wide circulation, also. As given in this volume, the story of the origin of Thomas Brigham in a small hamlet in Yorkshire, England, of yeoman stock, although of very ancient lineage, leaves no ground for believing that he belonged to an armor-bearing family.

A second reason impelling the publication of the Second Volume is that the organization of the Brigham Family Association has been maintained since the publication of the First Volume in 1907. Moreover, careful management has conserved the funds of the Association, and the growth of and changes in this great family of ours have been so extensive as to warrant the use of this money, as far as it will go, in expanding into a work of several hundred pages what originally was contemplated only as a pamphlet presenting the record of the Brigham line across the sea, and such additions and corrections to the existing records as had been supplied to the editor.

It is a matter of pride with us that in addition to having published what competent critics declare to be one of the most complete and admirably arranged family histories in New England, we are now able to supplement this with a volume of much new and equally important material; including, for example, not only the English record, but biographical paragraphs of much human interest, and stories of hitherto untraced Brighams, lost lines, persons who have adopted the Brigham name, noteworthy intermarriages, etc.

A feature of this book is the series of historical sketches with which the genealogical data of each generation is introduced. These pages are a running narrative reviewing the salient features of the Brighams of the First Volume, with picturesque stories of many individuals taken from other sources. This is also an effort to show the trend of emigration, together with the individual results of these movements, north, west and south. We have included also many persons whose value to their communities has been so apparent that it was a matter of record or tradition. Many not so named undoubtedly should have a place in such an enumeration, but often the facts have not been within our reach. Neither has it been possible to speak of still others whose lives have enriched the world in quiet ways. In this review, only those whose life-work is finished are described in detail.

No attempt has been made in this book to repeat the genealogical records of Volume One, except where this was necessary for the sake of clearness and to indicate the numbered divisions. The heads of these divisions in this volume correspond in names and numbers with those of the First Volume, but only such sections as have additional material are given in this book, and even in such cases it is the new material chiefly that is set forth. Therefore, it will be essential to resort to the earlier volume for full identification of many persons and lines mentioned here, but the connection is straight and no difficulty will be found in placing families correctly. For these and other reasons, both books should be in the library of every one interested in Brigham genealogy. Fortunately, copies of Volume One are still available for purchase.

In the pages following another feature may be observed, that of sketches illustrating the remarkable force which some of the women of our family are exerting in community and club life, in music, art, journalism and other professions, and in the business world. Insofar as it has been our privilege to learn of the devotion and sacrifices of our men and women in the late World War, both at home and abroad, we have outlined such services.

The indebtedness of the family to the genealogist and compiler of this volume, Miss Emma Elisabeth Brigham, can never be sufficiently realized, much less expressed. Her energy, unflagging interest and zeal made possible the completion and publication of the First Volume, and the present book is all her own. Incapacitated for a long time by accident and illness, she rallied and renewed the work to which she had set her hand. Deprived by death of the associate, Miss Mary Brigham of Cambridge, on whom she could ever rely, and whose services seemed indispensable, she still carried on, although more time has been consumed in the work than if greater strength had been available. "The History of the Brigham Family" as now completed is as much a symbol of her devotion as it is a monument to the honorable line whose career the two volumes record.

But Miss Emma E. Brigham has been the first to testify also to the generous assistance rendered by many others of the blood or name, who have cooperated in the making of this Second Volume. To Mrs. Ella Brigham Porter of Marlboro, who in the midst of a busy life has striven persistently to complete the records of many of the Marlboro families, we are deeply indebted; also to Frederick M. Brigham, formerly of Toledo, now of Philadelphia, for the discovery of the Orr's Island Brigham branch, descended from Governor Paul of Vermont and his son, Dr. Thomas S.; also to Will S. Thomas for his mother's line (her first marriage and son having been omitted from the H. B. F.)—she was a daughter of Dr. Thomas S.; also to Dr. C. W. Drew, of Minneapolis, a descendant of Hepsibah (Brigham) Taplin, for additions to her family record; to the Shurtleff genealogy; and, again, to the Parkman Diary (whose one published portion was so profusely drawn upon in the First Volume), particularly the manuscripts deposited with the Massachusetts Historical Society and the Worcester Antiquarian Society, to which our genealogist had free access; to the invaluable and delightful "Historical Reminiscences of Marlboro," by the late Mrs. Ella A. Bigelow; to the late William H. Brigham of Marlboro, who spent some of his last days in procuring additional records of Marlboro families; to Harry Chase Brigham of Toledo for helpfulness in regard to Toledo families; to Mrs. Frank W. Morso of Hudson for the record of the family of Hannah (Brigham) Gleason; to Mrs. Joseph Lindsay, Superior, Wisconsin, for recovery of the line of her ancestress Sabra (Brigham) Hudson, a daughter of Dr. Samuel<sup>4</sup> Brigham of Marlboro; to Mrs. D. F. Murray of Plymouth, Michigan, for the family of her ancestress, Sarah (Brigham) Gott, a daughter of Uriah<sup>4</sup> of Marlboro; to Mrs. Marshall Marsh of Chicago, for the record of Abigail (Brigham) Snow, daughter of Gershom<sup>8</sup> Brigham of Marlboro; to Miss Georgiana K. Fiske of Grafton, who assisted materially in sending additions to the Dinah (Brigham) Williams branch, a Southboro family, and needed additions to the Grafton Brigham record; to E. W. Butterfield of Dover, N. H., for additions to line of Ezekiel, No. 79; to the late George Sawin Stewart, the accomplished genealogist (Stephen, Silas, Emily, out of Princeton, Mass., and Brownington, Vt.), for his highly important research work on the early line of John<sup>2</sup> and other families. To all others who so cheerfully responded to the many calls upon their time and patience, warm thanks are due.

BRIGHAM ANCESTRY IN ENGLAND

INTRODUCTION

A search for the English ancestry of Thomas Brigham has been conducted by members of the family for many years and "The History of the Brigham Family" gives an account of the various conjectures regarding the English ancestry.

In 1914 J. Gardner Bartlett of Boston, a genealogist of high repute and one of the leading authorities on the English lines of ancestry of the early settlers of New England, brought to the attention of the compiler of this Second Volume some material that he had unearthed in making a research for the English ancestry of the emigrant, Simon Crosby, in behalf of the late Mrs. Eleanor D. Crosby, the compiler of the Crosby genealogy. Mr. Bartlett observed a close relationship between Simon Crosby and Thomas Brigham, who came to America together.

In the spring of 1635 a small party of Yorkshire men, under the guidance of Rev. Thomas Shepard, who had been preaching at Buttercrambe in Yorkshire, decided to emigrate with him to New England, and went to London where, on April 18, 1635, they embarked on the ship Susan and Ellen. In the passenger list appear the names of Thomas Brigham, Simon Crosby, his wife Ann and their small children. About twelve miles south of Buttercrambe is the rural parish known as Holme-on-Spalding-Moor and here is found the original location of both the Brigham and the Crosby families. This place, named in the Rand-McNally Atlas as "Holme," is situated about half-way between the cities of Hull and York, about twenty-five miles from the North Sea and about ten miles north of the River Humber. From the first ancient registry book of this little parish, Mr. Bartlett obtained many valuable records which establish the ancestry of Thomas Brigham. The book was found to be in wretched condition, mutilated and discolored, with several gaps due to lost pages, and with much of the writing illegible; but from an examination of this volume and other correlative data, he has prepared the appended pedigree which extends back to 1475. About that year a Thomas Brigham was born (the name Thomas appears to continue through many generations), and in 1528 he is recorded on the rental roll of the Manor of Holme as holding a toft, an orchard, a barn, a close and half a bovate of land. He was probably the father of Thomas 2d, born about 1500, who appears as Thomas Brigham, Jr., on the same rental roll of 1528, holding property in Holme-on-Spalding-Moor. He was married about 1525 to a person whose first name was Elizabeth, but she outlived him by several years, his death occurring in 1560, his wife's in 1573. He also had a son Thomas 3d, born about 1525, who married in 1548 Janet Millington, a daughter of William and Barbara Millington. He was a yeoman, lived throughout his life at Holme, and died in 1599 leaving a will proved that year.

Thomas the 4th, born about 1549, is mentioned in the will of his father, also in the will of his cousin Peter Millington. He was a webster, or cloth worker, married a woman whose first name was Gillian, and died in 1586. Our line of Thomases is broken by a son named John, born about 1573, who resided in his native parish and in the adjoining parish of Hotham. He married in 1599 Constance Watson, the daughter of James Watson. She is mentioned in the wills of her father, her sister and her brother-in-law Robert Brigham.

On account of the loss of the registers between 1601 and 1628 the baptismal record of only the eldest child of John is preserved, but in the will in 1640 of Robert Brigham, the brother of John, there are named six children of John, viz., William, John, Robert, Gillian, Margaret and Phillippa, all "now in this land." Undoubtedly this phrase signifies there were other children not then in England, evidently referring to the emigrants Thomas and Sebastian Brigham who were across the seas in company with Simon and Ann Crosby, Ann the wife of Simon Crosby being their own-cousin and a daughter of Thomas Brigham, a brother of John and Robert. This brings us down to Thomas Brigham, the Puritan, who was born about 1603, son of John, and named for his grand-father. He is evidently one of the "other three children" of John Brigham given bequests in the will of their great-grand-uncle Henry Brigham of Seaton in 1606.

An interesting corroboration of the conclusions of Mr. Bartlett concerning the will of Thomas Brigham, a will which did not even mention his name, but noted six children "now in this land," came to light in the publication, "Letters of the Earl of Barrington," where, by a curious chance, a letter written by the Rev. Thomas Shepard to the Earl of Barrington in 1641 contained the following stray phrase: "I am sending this message to you by the hands of one Sebastian Brigham who is returning to England about some estate that has befallen him." The letter was written in March, 1641, and Robert Brigham had made his will in the previous November. There was the definite proof that the shrewd guess of our genealogist, J. Gardner Bartlett, was absolutely correct.

After the arrival of Thomas Brigham and Simon Crosby in this country, the life of Thomas Brigham and his descendants is detailed in "The History of the Brigham Family," First Volume, and in the Second Volume, that of his ancestry and descendants not enumerated in the First Volume.

Just a word about Sebastian, the brother of Thomas, who came to this country for a period of twenty years. The baptism of two of his children appears on the Holme registers in 1635 and 1637, and he came out to the new world in 1638 in company with the Rev. Ezekiel Rogers of Rowley, county York (about twelve miles south-east of Holme), who founded the town of Rowley, Mass. Sebastian first went to Cambridge where his brother Thomas Brigham and his own-cousin Ann Crosby, wife of Simon Crosby, were living, and bought a house there; but a few months later he sold this house and moved to Rowley where he was a captain of the military company and deputy to the Massachusetts Court. He probably returned permanently to England about 1656.

The Brigbams in England were not armorial and land-owning gentry of great means, and with one exception—Robert, who died in 1640, they had modest properties. They were leasehold yeomanry of the best class, and the family was of good substance and esteem in that section of Yorkshire. The Holme registers show numerous entries regarding the Brigham family, and we are able to identify and correctly place nearly all of the names in these registers.

In conclusion there should be noted the close relationship between Thomas and Ann Crosby. Their fathers were brothers, their mothers were sisters—an unusual type of double cousinship. Thomas Brigham, Simon Crosby, his wife Ann Brigham, Constance Brigham Crosby, the widow of Robert, and Sebastian Brigham, were all young people together in the same place in England. Thomas, Simon and Ann settled in Cambridge; Sebastian and Constance with her three daughters in Rowley. Later Simon's children removed to Barnstable County, Thomas' children removed to Marlboro with their mother upon her second marriage, and Constance's children, all girls, married, and some of their descendants are in the middle and far west. Thus the three lines which should have kept in close touch with each other, on account of the nearness of relationship, were all separated and lost to each other.

York Wills, vol. 30, fol. 165.) He d. about 1627. His nuncupative will left all his estate to his wife, she to be sole executrix; proved by the widow, 4 May, 1627. (P. and E. York Wills, vol. 39, fol. 170.) As this instrument names no children and the Holme registers from 1601 to 1628 are lost, the names of not all his children are known. He m. after 1606, Anne ———; she m. (2), 3 Dec. 1627, William Madson. Child: 1 Thomas<sup>6</sup>, b. probably about 1610; was given a hat in the will of his uncle Robert Brigham, dated 5 Sept., 1640: the will also gave a lamb to Marmaduke<sup>7</sup>, son of this Thomas Brigham. (P. and E. York Wills, original will, 1640.) He also had a son Richard<sup>8</sup>, bapt. 21 Sept., 1638.

- vi Robert<sup>5</sup>, bapt. 20 May, 1582, lived in Holme on Spalding Moor, where he was bur. 8 Sept., 1640. He seems to have had more business ability than his brothers, and acquired considerable estate. He was assessed 5s on goods worth £3 in a subsidy of 7 James I (1609); and in the subsidy of 4 Chas. I (1628), he also appears, being taxed 8s on goods valued at £3. (Lay Subsidies, Public Record Office, 204-401 and 204-449.) He was a legatee in the will of his great-uncle Henry<sup>3</sup> Brigham, of Seaton, dated 30 June, 1606, as previously given. (P. and E. York Wills, vol. 30, fol. 165.) In a chancery suit of Thomas Mawburne vs. Francis Bacon, on 13 Apr., 1625, Robert Brigham of Holme on Spaldingmore, co. York, aged forty-two years, deposed he married the mother of complainant, etc.; and his wife, Dorothy Brigham, aged fifty-four years, deposes she was formerly wife of Robert Mawburne and is mother of William and Thomas Mawburne, etc. (Chancery Depositions, 1558-1649, M-12-19, Public Record Office, London.)

Robert X Brigbams marke.

Witnesses hereof W. Bradford—Tho. Crosbie

Proved 12th February, 1640-1.

(P. and E. York Wills, Original Will, Bundle for Feb., 1640.)

Robert<sup>5</sup> Brigham m. at St. Margaret's, York, in Feb. 1607-8, Dorothy Mawburne, widow of Robert Mawburne; she was b. in 1570 and was twelve years the senior of her second husband, but brought him a large estate. Children: 1 Prudence<sup>6</sup>, m. 14 Nov., 1637, Barnard Hammond (or Awmond); 2 Anne, living 1640.

5. JOHN<sup>5</sup> BRIGHAM (Thomas<sup>4</sup>, Thomas<sup>3</sup>, Thomas<sup>2</sup>, Thomas<sup>1</sup>) born in Holme on Spalding Moor about 1573, resided in his native parish and later in the adjoining parish of Hotham where he died in 1621. His (eldest) son Henry and three other children (unnamed) were given legacies in the will of his great-uncle Henry<sup>3</sup> Brigham of Seaton, dated 30 June, 1606, previously given. (P. and E. York Wills, vol. 30, fol. 165.) On 11 May, 1621, administration on the estate of John Brigham of Hotham, deceased, was granted to his widow Custanee Brigham. (Adm. Act Books, P. and E. Court of York, Harthill Deanery.)

He married 30 Sept., 1599, Constanee Watson, baptized 17 Aug., 1578, daughter of James Watson, and sister of Isabel Watson the wife of his brother Thomas<sup>5</sup> Brigham; she is mentioned in the wills of her father, James Watson, dated 10 July, 1615, her sister Isabel Brigham dated 8 June, 1634, and her brother-in-law Robert<sup>5</sup> Brigham, dated 5 Sept., 1640. (P. and E. York Wills, vol. 34, fol. 95, vol. 42, fol. 281, and original will for 1640.)

On account of the loss of the registers of Holme on Spalding Moor between 1601 and 1628, the baptismal record of only Henry<sup>6</sup>, the eldest child of John<sup>5</sup> and Constance (Watson) Brigham, is now preserved; but the will of Robert<sup>5</sup> Brigham (brother of John<sup>5</sup>), in 1640, previously given, names six others, William, John, Robert, Gillian, Margaret, and Phillippa, all "now in this land," thus clearly indicating there were others then out of England, evidently referring to Thomas<sup>6</sup> Brigham who accompanied his own-cousin Anne<sup>6</sup> (Brigham) Crosby, wife of Simon Crosby, to New England in the ship Susan and Ellen in April 1635, and Sebastian<sup>6</sup> Brigham who emigrated to New England in the autumn of 1638 in the company led by Rev. Ezekiel Rogers of Rowley in Yorkshire, a parish about a dozen miles southeast of Holme on Spalding Moor. The order of births of these ten children is uncertain.

Children:

- i Henry<sup>6</sup>, bapt. 27 Dec., 1599, is named in the will of his great-grand uncle Henry<sup>3</sup> Brigham of Seaton dated 30 June, 1606, and also in the will of his uncle Robert<sup>5</sup> Brigham, dated 5 Sept., 1640, both previously given.
- ii Gillian, b. perhaps about 1601; named in will of her uncle Robert<sup>5</sup> Brigham in 1640.
- 7 iii Thomas, b. about 1603; named for his grandfather; is not named in the will of his uncle Robert<sup>5</sup> Brigham in 1640, but evidently referred to; emigrated to New England in 1635.
- iv Margaret, b. perhaps about 1605; named in the will of her uncle Robert<sup>5</sup> Brigham in 1640.
- v William, b. perhaps about 1607; named in the will of his uncle Robert<sup>5</sup> Brigham in 1640. His wife Margaret was bur. at Holme on Spalding Moor, 5 Mar. 1633-4.
- 8 vi Sebastian, b. perhaps about 1609; not named in the will of his uncle Robert<sup>5</sup> Brigham in 1640, but evidently referred to; emigrated to New England in 1638.
- vii John, b. perhaps about 1611; named in the will of his uncle Robert<sup>5</sup> Brigham in 1640. He m. at Holme on Spalding Moor, 1 Nov., 1637, Mary Anderson. Child: 1 Anne<sup>7</sup>, bapt. in Nov., 1638.
- viii Phillippa<sup>6</sup>, b. perhaps about 1614; named in the will of her uncle Robert<sup>5</sup> Brigham in 1640.
- ix Robert, named in the will of his uncle Robert<sup>5</sup> Brigham in 1640.

On 19 Mar., 1632-3, administration on the estate of Thomas Brigham of Holme in Spaldingmore, deceased, was given to (his daughters) Anna Brigham and Constance Brigham alias Crosby. (Amd. Act Books, P. and E. Court of York, Harthill Deanery.) The fact that this administration was given to daughters is evidence that Thomas<sup>6</sup> Brigham left no son.

Thomas<sup>5</sup> Brigham married 4 Feb., 1600-1, Mrs. Isabel (Watson) Ellithorpe, bapt. at Holme on Spalding Moor 21 Feb., 1560-1, daughter of James Watson,* and widow of Richard Ellithorpe† to whom she had been married on 27 Oct., 1583. It is a curious fact that this Thomas<sup>5</sup> Brigham and his youngest brother Robert<sup>5</sup> Brigham both married widows over a dozen years older than themselves. Isabel (Watson-Ellithorpe), wife of Thomas<sup>5</sup> Brigham, was the eldest sister of Constance Watson, wife of John<sup>5</sup> Brigham, eldest brother of Thomas<sup>5</sup> Brigham.

Mrs. Isabel (Watson-Ellithorpe) Brigham, widow of Thomas<sup>5</sup> Brigham, was buried 25 June, 1634, and left the following will:

June the Eight day Anno d<sup>m</sup> 1634. In the name of God Amen. I Issabell Brigam of Holme in Spaldingmoore in the County of Yorke widdow sicke and weake in body but of good and perfect remembrance thankes be given to almighty God whoe hath made me and all the world, and my body to be buried within the parrish Church or Church yeard of Holme in Spaldingmore. Imprimis I give to the poore Thirteene shillings fower pence. Item I give my bedd with the furniture thereof to William Ellethorpe my eldest sonne. Item I give to my sonne Thomas‡ which is in his owne hand six pounds. Item I give †His will, dated 10 Sept., 1597, proved 8 Dec., 1597, mentions wife Isabel, sons William, Thomas, and Christopher, and daughters Frances and Mary. (P. and E. York Wills, vol. 27, fol. 108.) His eldest child, Alison Ellithorpe, bapt. 8 July, 1584, d. an infant.

Item I give to Anne Crosby my daughter Five shillings. Item I give to my sister Constance Brigm my best gowne and my petticoat. Item I give to Richard Ellethropp my grand childe Forty shillings. Debts oweinge to the sieke party. Imprimis of Thomas Bradley of Holme in Spaldingmore six pounds. Item Robert Millington senior Fower pounds. Item Francis Williams Two pounds. Item Christopher Ellethorp my sonne Two pounds. And for confirmation hereof I ordaine Constitute and appoint William Ellethorpe my sonne full Executor of this my last will and Testament (all other wills formerly made being recalled backe again). My debtes being paid and my funerall charges being paid. Witnesses hereof, George Atkinson, Johannes Tennante, Anne Dayles. Proved 2 Oct., 1634, by William Ellethorpe, son of deceased, executor named in the will. (P. and E. York Wills, vol. 42, fol. 281.)

Children of Thomas<sup>5</sup> and Isabel (Watson-Ellithorpe) Brigham, born at Holme on Spalding Moor:

- i Constance<sup>6</sup>, b. about 1602, was an administratrix of the estate of her father in 1632. She m. about 1622, Robert Crosby, bapt. 30 Oct., 1596, d. about 1640. She came to New England, a widow, with her three daughters, was granted a house lot at Rowley, Mass., before 1643, and was bur. there 25 Jan., 1683-4. Children (Crosby), bapt. at Holme on Spalding Moor: 1 John, bapt. 25 Jan., 1623-4, d. young; 2 Jane, bapt. 22 Apr., 1627, m. at Rowley, Mass., 29 Oct., 1644, John Piekard; 3 Mary, bapt. 4 Dec., 1629, m. at Rowley, Mass., 16 Jan., 1647-8, Richard Longhorne; 4 Robert, bapt. 22 July, 1632, d. young; 5 Hannah, bapt. 31 Oct., 1634, m. at Rowley, Mass., 6 Dec., 1655, John Johnson.
- ii Anne, b. about 1606, was an administratrix of her father in 1632. She m. (1), at Holme on Spalding Moor, 21 Apr., 1634, Simon Crosby, b. about 1608, youngest son of Thomas and Jane (Sotheron) Crosby. They came to New England with her cousin Thomas<sup>6</sup> Brigham in the ship Susan and Ellen in the spring of 1635 and settled at Cambridge, Mass., where he d. in Sept., 1639. She m. (2), in 1645, Rev. William Tompson of Braintree, Mass., where she d. 11 Oct., 1675, aged sixty-nine years according to her gravestone. Children (Crosby): 1 Thomas, bapt. at Holme on Spalding Moor, 26 Feb., 1634-5; 2 Simon, b. at Cambridge, Mass., in Aug., 1637; 3 Joseph, b. at Cambridge, Mass., in Feb., 1638-9.

7. THOMAS<sup>6</sup> BRIGHAM (John<sup>5</sup>, Thomas<sup>4</sup>, Thomas<sup>3</sup>, Thomas<sup>2</sup>, Thomas<sup>1</sup>), was born about 1603 and named for his grandfather; but as the registers of Holme on Spalding Moor are lost from 1601 to 1628, his baptismal record is not preserved, and as he did not marry until after his removal to New England in 1635, there is no mention of his name in the registers preserved after 1628. He is evidently one of "the other three children" of John<sup>5</sup> Brigham, referred to but not named in the will of his great-grand-uncle Henry<sup>3</sup> Brigham of Seaton dated 30 June, 1606, previously given. He is also evidently referred to in the will of his uncle Robert<sup>5</sup> Brigham in 1640, who names seven children of John<sup>5</sup> Brigham as "now in this land," signifying there were others not then in England. As his parents did not leave wills, no mention of him has been found in England, except on the sailing list which follows.

In the spring of 1635, a small party of Yorkshire adherents of Rev. Thomas Shepherd, who had been preaching at Buttercrambe, a few miles north of Holme on Spalding Moor, decided to emigrate with him to New England, and went to London, where on 18 April, 1635, they embarked among the passengers of the ship Susan and Ellen. In the passenger list appears:

Tho: Briggham (aged) 32

Symon Crosby, husbandman (aged) 26

Ann Crosby, uxor (aged) 25

Tho: Crosby child (aged) 8 weeks

(See "Hotten's Lists of Emigrants to America," page 62.)

As previously shown, Ann<sup>6</sup> the wife of Simon Crosby was daughter of Thomas<sup>5</sup> and Isabel (Watson) Brigham, and the circumstantial evidence previously given can leave no doubt that Thomas<sup>6</sup> Brigham, her fellow passenger, was her own first cousin, doubly related, and a son of John<sup>5</sup> and Constance (Watson) Brigham.

Soon after reaching New England, Thomas<sup>6</sup> Brigham settled in Cambridge, Mass., where the Crosbys also located, his homestead adjoining that of Simon Crosby, and where he resided until his death, 8 Dec., 1653.

He married in New England about 1639, Meroy ———; she married second, as a second wife, 1 Mar., 1665-6, Dea. Edmund Rice of Sudbury, Mass., later of Marlborough, Mass., where he died 3 May, 1663. She married for her third husband, in Oct. or Nov., 1664, William Hunt of Marlborough, Mass., who died in Oct., 1667. She died in Marlborough 22 Dec., 1693. On her second marriage and removal to Marlborough she took thither her Brigham children.

Children of Thomas<sup>6</sup> and (Mersey) Brigham, born in Cambridge, Mass.:

- i Mary<sup>7</sup>, b. about 1640; m. about 1668, John Fay of Marlborough, Mass.
- ii Thomas, b. about 1642; settled in Marlborough, Mass.
- iii John, b. 9 Mar. 1644-5; settled in Marlborough, Mass.
- iv Hannah, b. 9 Mar., 1650-1; m. (1), about 1674, Gershom Eames, and m. (2), about 1679, William Ward, both of Marlborough, Mass.
- v Samuel, b. 12 Jan., 1652-3, settled in Marlborough, Mass.

8. SEBASTIAN<sup>6</sup> BRIGHAM (John<sup>5</sup>, Thomas<sup>4</sup>, Thomas<sup>3</sup>, Thomas<sup>2</sup>, Thomas<sup>1</sup>), was born in Holme on Spalding Moor, perhaps about 1609, the registers being lost for the period of his baptism. He is evidently referred to as not in England in the will of his uncle Robert<sup>5</sup> Brigham in 1640. The baptisms of two of his children appear on the Holme registers, and in the autumn of 1638 he was in the company of adherents of Rev. Ezekial Rogers of Rowley, co. York, England, who emigrated to New England and the next spring founded the town of Rowley, Mass. Sebastian Brigham went first to Cambridge, Mass. (where his brother Thomas<sup>6</sup> Brigham and cousin Mrs. Anne<sup>6</sup> [Brigham] Crosby had located three years previously), and bought a house at the corner of the present Holyoke and Winthrop Streets; but a few months later he sold this house and removed to Rowley, Mass., where most of his old friends in England located, and where he was captain of the military company and deputy to the Mass. General Court. He probably returned with his family to England about 1656.

He married in England about 1634, Mary ———.

Children:

- i Timothy<sup>7</sup>, bapt. at Holme on Spalding Moor, 24 Aug., 1635.
- ii Mary, bapt. at Holme on Spalding Moor, 30 Oct., 1637.
- iii Sarah, b. in Rowley, Mass., 12 July, 1640.
- iv Elizabeth, b. in Rowley, Mass., 7 June, 1643.
- v Prudence, b. in Rowley, Mass., 19 Mar., 1645-6.
- vi Sebastian, b. in Rowley, Mass., 2 July, 1648.

GENEALOGY

1 THOMAS<sup>1</sup> BRIGHAM, born in Holme-on-Spalding-Moor, Yorkshire, England, in 1603, d. in Cambridge, Mass., 8 Dec., 1653; m. Mercy, whose surname is supposed to have been Hurd, who was probably b. in England, and d. in Marlboro, Mass., 23 Dec., 1693; she m. (2) Edmund Rice of Marlboro, and they had two daughters; she died the widow of William Hunt of Marlboro, her third husband. The name Hurd is only traditional, and the Rice Genealogy by Ward is responsible for the tradition. The legend on the illustration of box which faces page 53 of the H. B. F. should read "Mercy Hunt's Cap box."

For the children born to Thomas and Mercy see page 54 of the First Volume. For the story of Thomas Brigham, see the results of the research in England of Mr. J. Gardner Bartlett, beginning on page 19 of this volume, and the chapter on page 33 of the First Volume, written by Mr. Henry A. Phillips, now of Millbury, Mass.

It is believed that, when Mercy Brigham married Edmund Rice and came to Marlboro, they lived in the vicinity of the old Ephraim Brigham house on Clover Hill, and there the Brigham boys, Thomas, John and Samuel, and their sisters, Mary and Hannah, had their first home in Marlboro.

REVIEW

Brigham pilgrims to-day in visiting Marlboro always ask to see the house and farm of the second Thomas Brigham. The house in which he lived has long been a thing of the past and the present one is entirely modern, but the land he bought of Edmund Rice, his step-father, is there and the well from which he drank.

*“Bring me a goblet from the well
As our first father knew it,
Where to the depths the bucket fell
And sparkling forth he drew it.
And we will drink the health of each
And every Brigham brother,
Far as the golden links may reach,
Back to our island mother.”*

—Dwight Williams.

Martha L. Ames says: “In one sense the life of Thomas Brigham the second seems not far away from our time. The road winding through the valley where his dwelling stood; the fair and fertile fields which he cultivated; the stately and beautiful trees on which he no doubt often gazed have come down through generations of his descendants, uniting the past with the present. We think of him as often passing this way to church or elsewhere, enjoying the distant scenery and the magnificent sunsets, even as we do now. Yet, in reality, we know little of his life. There are many missing links in the chain of events which only imagination can supply. Living in those troublous times, when wars followed each other in quick succession, he must have been surrounded by elements of danger of which only the echo comes down to us. He is said to have been a large, strong man of whom the Indians stood greatly in awe. It was his custom in war times, when going to mill, to have an escort of two dogs and two guns. Probably the guns, if not the dogs, accompanied him to church and other places.”

A full description of Thomas Brigham's home and his history, as far as known, may be found in "The History of the Brigham Family," pages 64-70. The brook, "with marge of garden, wood and fallow," still flows through the land, an outlet of Williams Pond, finally emptying into Assabet River. The Brigbams were yeomen, as the story of our English origin reveals.

*"From wood crowned hill to river brink
We own a yeoman glory."*

John Brigham, the second son, named without doubt for his English grandfather, was a very popular man and was called upon for public service very often. Some of the Brigbams of the present day and in earlier days, though in some cases not directly descended from him, possess what has been called "his exuberance of activity, his ubiquitous absorption here and there into this and that problem of the place and the hour." One cannot but regret that his large capacity for affairs and his many-sided genius could not have been exercised in our day and generation, which is so rich in the activities in which he would have delighted, instead of in the backwoods of a pioneer town. He was a solitary settler, living in a cabin in the wild land of the present Northboro, where he had a saw-mill; and a dam, partly of native rock, gave him the needed power. When the Indians drove him away from his cabin, he came back to the company of his friends and neighbors. In Marlboro, he probably lived near and northwest from the present French church; in Northboro, his residence, whether the cabin or a later dwelling, is called to-day the "Priest Whitney Place"; in Sudbury, where he lived long years, his home was on the old Sudbury and Marlboro road, near the town line. To sum up his activities, we will quote an historian of Worcester County:

"John Brigham, the doctor, surveyor, Commissioner of the General Court, land speculator, and the most enterprising man in town."

The two daughters of the immigrant, Mary Brigham, wife of John Fay, the eldest child, and the first Brigham born on American soil, and her sister Hannah Brigham, with two husbands to her credit, Gershom Eames and William Ward, were probably not exempt from the usual lot of pioneer women, wives of farmers and mothers of large families, burden-bearers of the race. Mary, escaping to Watertown from an Indian raid, found there only a grave for herself and young son, David, just coming five years old. She was probably laid by or near her parents, Thomas and Mercy, whose graves to this day no man has discovered. She left two sons and a daughter. Hannah, more fortunate in length of life, was tragically saddened by the untoward fate of one of her eight children, Elisha, either killed or taken prisoner by the Indians. The pathos of it creeps into Hannah's will in which she says, "And if Elisha shall ever come again," he is to receive some money. One of the dark shadows of our New England pioneer days is the heart-break over the unknown fates of loved ones, when the Indians revenged themselves on the white man.

The third son and youngest child, Samuel Brigham, more than a year old when his father died, founded the tanning business and incidentally the shoe trade of Marlboro and Hudson. He lived on the present East Main Street in Marlboro, a quarter of a mile east of the old Academy. His grave is the only one of the first or second generation of Brighams which is known. It may be found in the rear of the High School building, in the old cemetery. He, too, following in the line of his brother John's public service, went to the legislature or General Court, three times at least. Tradition says he was town treasurer, but some of the old records were burned and there is nothing forthcoming to prove this. He was, however, a man of affairs, and left a good estate. He was 61 at the time of his death, Thomas was 76, Mary but 38, Hannah 69, but John exceeded them all, living to be 83.

Thus lived and died these men and women of the second generation of Brighams in America, and they left the world knowing that they had made their corner of it a better place in which to live, through their lifelong efforts.

GENEALOGY

2 MARY<sup>2</sup> (BRIGHAM) FAY, b. probably in Cambridge, Mass., about 1638, the first Brigham born in America; d. in Watertown in 1676; wife of John Fay, the emigrant of Marlboro, Mass. (?-1690). She was the mother of four children. The marriage of Mary and John was the prelude to thirty-two or more marriages between the Fays and Brighams. As early as 1669 John Fay's name is on the Marlboro records when he was made a freeman and assigned fifty acres of land. Ch. (Fay) additions:

- i John<sup>2</sup>, Jr., lost his wife, Elizabeth Wellington, in 1729. The W. V. R. report that John Fay, in 1744, m. (2) the widow, Mary Rice. The H. M. and the H. B. F. state that he m. (2) Levinah Brigham. No Levinah Brigham was b. before 1733. It is true that Willard Brigham, the genealogist, gives a Levinah to Elnathan<sup>3</sup> Brigham and marries her to John<sup>2</sup> Fay, Jr., but Morse calls her "Dinah," and so does the M. V. R. In this volume, a marriage of this John Fay with a Levinah Brigham is repudiated, and the name of Elnathan's dau. is restored to "Dinah."

3 THOMAS<sup>2</sup> BRIGHAM, born in Cambridge and of Marlboro, Mass. (1640-1716); his wife, Mary (Rice), the dau. of Henry and Elizabeth (Moore) Rice, was descended through her mother from the Whale family. Mary's grandfather, John Moore, of Sudbury, came on the "Planter" in 1635 with his wife, Elizabeth, dau. of Philemon, Jr., and Elizabeth Whale. A writer, "H. H. H.," on the genealogical page of the Boston Evening Transcript stated that the Whales were of Chickney, Essex Co., England. The Moore and Whale families were in Sudbury by 1642 or 1643. This will interest all descendants of Thomas and Mary (Rice) Brigham, who are numbered by the thousands. Thomas and Mary Brigham's children, Nos. 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, and a daughter Mary, viii, under her father, left descendants (See H. B. F.). One little girl, however, who d. in infancy, has failed of a place in the H. B. F., viz.:

viii Priscilla<sup>3</sup> Brigham, b. in Feb., 1684-85; d. 10 Apr., 1685. (M. R.)

4 JOHN<sup>2</sup> BRIGHAM of Sudbury, born in Cambridge, Mass. (1644-45-1728); m. (1) Sarah Davis, b. 10 Apr., 1646, and d. between 1691-98, the only child of Robert and Bridget Davis; m. (2) Deborah (Haynes) Brown, widow of Jabez Brown of Stow and dau. of Josiah Haynes of Sudbury; his third wife was Sarah Bowker, as recorded in the H. B. F.

viii There is no evidence that John<sup>2</sup> Brigham had a son Samuel as stated in H. B. F. Abigail Moore, there recorded as his wife, m. Capt. Samuel<sup>3</sup> Brigham, No. 16 in H. B. F.

5 HANNAH<sup>2</sup> (Brigham) EAMES WARD, born in Cambridge, Mass. (1649-50-1719-20), widow of Gershom Eames, m. (2) William Ward. Ch. (Eames):

- i Hannah<sup>3</sup>, b. 3 Feb., 1671 (not 1675).
- ii Martha, b. 13 Aug., 1674 (M. V. R.), not mentioned in H. B. F.
- iii Mary, m. Major John Keyes, who was doubtless the son of Solomon<sup>2</sup> Keyes of Chelmsford, Mass., instead of the son of Elias and Sarah (Blanford) Keyes, as recorded in H. B. F. This information came from the writer who signed "Maek" in the Boston Evening Transcript, who had made special research in regard to the subject. The m. of Mary Eames and John Keyes occurred 11 March, 1695-96, not 1695 (M. V. R.). Their son, Gershom<sup>4</sup> Keyes, was b. 1 March, 1697-98 (not 1698). The M. V. R. state that he m. ——— Eager (not Sarah, as in H. B. F.). The record of the eldest son of Hannah (Brigham) Eames' 2d m. to William Ward (which m. probably occurred in 1679) is corrected as follows. Ch. (Ward):
- iv William<sup>3</sup>, b. 27 May, 1680 (not March), may be the Deacon William Ward, who d. in Southboro, 12 Jan., 1756. The record of his children in the H. B. F. is imperfect. Ch. (Ward): 1 Hezekiah<sup>4</sup>, b. 28 June, 1703; 2 Jonathan, b. 4 Apr., 1705; 3 Bathshebah, b. 18 Oct., 1706; 4 Hepsibah, b. 30 Dec., 1708; 5 Elisha, b. 30 July, 1712; 6 William, b. 16 Oct., 1714; 7 Hannah, b. 12 March, 1717; 8 Jane, b. 9 May, 1719; 9 Abigail, b. 17 Apr., 1720; 10 Charles, b. 27 Oct., 1722; 11 Submit, b. 5 June, and d. 6 June, 1726.

6 SAMUEL<sup>2</sup> Brigham of Marlboro, born in Cambridge, Mass. (1652-1713), m. in 1683 (M. V. R.), Elizabeth, dau. of Abraham and Hannah (Ward) How, b. 5 Apr., 1664 (M. V. R. say 1665), d. 26 July, 1739. Abraham mentions in his will his dau. Elizabeth Brigham; she appears as the second heir in a deed of the heirs of Abraham How, dated June 10, 1726. This answers a request for the authority for this marriage. Ch. additions to H. B. F. records:

- ix Persis<sup>3</sup> (Brigham) Baker (1703-1780), wife of Edward of Westboro; their ch. (Baker) have an imperfect record in the 1st vol.: 1 Samuel<sup>4</sup>, b. 27 Aug., 1722, m. 24 Nov., 1747, Susanna Tainter (see his record, H. B. F.); 2 Solomon, b. 3 Jan., 1723-24, m. (1) Sarah Newton, who d. 14 Feb., 1764, m. (2) 7 May, 1767, Hannah Hardy; 3 Persis, b. 8 Nov., 1726, d. 3 Nov., 1784, m. 16 Jan., 1745-46, Jonas<sup>4</sup> Brigham, No. 39. Nos. 102-109 H. B. F., and their descendants, have a descent from Samuel<sup>2</sup> as well as Thomas<sup>2</sup>. They include Robert B. Brigham and his sister Elizabeth F. Brigham, and William E. Brigham, former president of the B. F. A.; 4 Abigail, b. 4 Nov., 1728, d. 22 Jan., 1776, m. 2 March, 1757, Lt. John Martyn, son of the Rev. John and Mary (Marrett) Martyn of Northborough. (Ch. # THIRD GENERATION

The last of the second generation of Brighams passed away in 1728, and the third generation of men carried on the farms of their fathers or ventured to go as far as Grafton in the search for new lands. The fear of the Indians prevented much emigration. Nathan and Charles of this period were of those who bought land of the Indians in Grafton, became proprietors there and Charles settled there. The daughters of Thomas, John and Samuel had gone to homes of their own with the husbands they had chosen. Daughters did not get very much out of their fathers' estate if there were sons. The acres the second Thomas had acquired, and the records read as if they were many, had been divided among his sons, five of them, and the one daughter, Mary, had some money and household utensils. It has always been a query why Elnathan went as far away as Connecticut the next year after his father died. He is the only one of the third set of men who went into the wilderness in search of a home. His father's will left him twenty-two acres of land, and one-half of the "Sedar swamp that is in Chancy swamp." His brothers appear to have had more land than he, but possibly his father had provided for him in his lifetime. However, off he went, and founded a fine line of Brighams. His descendants have been people of worth and some of large distinction.

Although Nathan, the eldest son of the second Thomas, was credited by the "History of Marlboro," by Abner Morse in his genealogy of the Brighams, and by the late Willard I. T. Brigham, with marrying into the Howe family, it has now been proved that he married the daughter of John Maynard, Jr. This will change many an ancestral tree. See No. 7, this volume.

Jonathan, the fourth son of Thomas<sup>2</sup>, the second to arrive at adult age, two having died, lived to a great age, 93, and was called the "Indian Warrior." In the time of the garrisons, he belonged to that of his father, on whose place he had built his house. He was one of the executors of his father's will, and held numerous town offices.

David, the fifth child, went to Westboro, where his extensive farm, on or near Chauncey Pond, is now occupied in part by the Insane Asylum. He also was one of the executors of his father's will. In his old age he was burned out (see footnote, vol. 1, p. 86) and his death is vividly reported in the Parkman Diary. See this vol., No. 9.

The old records revealed that Gershom, No. 10, had a second marriage, which had not been mentioned in our genealogies. Also, a number of descendants of his daughter, Abigail Snow, are entered in this volume. There are changes in the records of nearly all the families of these early Brig-hams, which will be well worth noting.

Mary (Brigham) Fay, wife of Gershom Fay, and the courageous daughter of John<sup>2</sup>, whose daring defence of the fort during an Indian raid is told under No. 13, Vol. 1, appears to have fallen under her father's displeasure, after she became a widow. In case she marries, against his will, a certain schoolmaster named "Tounsens late of Westbury," John cuts her off in his will with five shillings. No marriage is recorded as taking place. Her sisters married into the leading families of the region, Sarah uniting with the Goodenows; their son Samuel of the third generation was her husband. Hannah married Oliver Ward, and Mercy made two marriages, the first with Ebenezer Perry and the second with Samuel Streeter. They all produced large families.

John's sons have some fine descendants, among them, Charles<sup>7</sup>, the architect of Watertown, lately deceased; a Baltimore and Shelter Island, N. Y., family and two Southern groups having interesting records.

The eldest son of Samuel<sup>2</sup>, Samuel, Jr., was one of forty men to purchase Grafton of the Indians. His brother Charles went there to live, but Samuel remained in Marlboro, held all the offices the town afforded, and accumulated a large estate, which enriched his five children—his son, Uriah, particularly, lived without work, kept open house, and enjoyed the life of a gentleman. This procedure resulted, as will be seen, in sending Uriah's sons afar in the need to place themselves satisfactorily in life.

Jedediah, one of the sons of Samuel the tanner, inherited the business and handed down the tannery to his son Winslow, thus enlarging and making a permanent foundation for the leading industry of the Marlboro and Hudson of to-day.

Jotham, busy as a surveyor and constable in Marlboro, stayed by his native place, as did all but two of his children, Oliver and Antipas. The former was lost sight of, but the line of one of his sons is given in this volume.

Timothy, a soldier of the colonial wars, with the title of colonel, was one of the leaders in the movement to set off Southboro from Marlboro, and his house there was opened for the first town-meeting. He led a busy life as we see by studying the Marlboro and Southboro records. He left no children, and George Brigham, his nephew, son of Samuel<sup>3</sup>, became his heir.

The ninth child of Captain Samuel<sup>2</sup> was Persis, and for some reason the records of her family were very imperfectly given in the H. B. F. She married Lieutenant Edward Baker, one of the leading men of Westboro, and they had a family of ten children. Connection with this family has given double lines of Brigham descent to several families. Their son, Joseph Baker, became known as "Squire" and is thus referred to many times by Mr. Parkman in his diary. Persis Brigham Baker died in that winter of great snow and prolonged cold weather, 1779-1780, mentioned several times in the diary. On the 12th of February they carried Mr. Parkman, Mrs. Andrews, and Mrs. Jonas Brigham, Persis' daughter, in a double sleigh to visit Mrs. Baker who was ill. On the 16th two young men drew Mr. Parkman on a sled to see the invalid again and the end came that evening. On the 19th the "Squire" sent his sleigh to carry Mr. Parkman to his house for the "Solemnity." Persis was in her 87th year.

GENEALOGY

7 CAPTAIN NATHAN<sup>3</sup> BRIGHAM of Marlboro (1671-1746-7), m. (1) Elizabeth, dau. of John<sup>2</sup> Maynard, Jr., of Marlboro, and his wife, Mary (Gates) Maynard, b. 2 Apr., 1664 (not Elizabeth Howe, as reported by H. M. and the Brigham Genealogy by Morse). The death notice of Elizabeth, w. of Capt. Nathan Brigham, 29 Mar., 1733, records her age as "69 yrs. lacking 4 days." This makes her birth-date 2 Apr., 1664. No Elizabeth Howe of that period in Marlboro was b. on that date, according to the records, and the birth of Elizabeth Maynard is thus given by H. M. It is also found that the will of John Maynard, who d. in 1711, names his dau. Elizabeth Brigham. W. I. T. Brigham was in error in giving an Elizabeth Howe, dau. of Isaac and Frances (Woods) Howe, to Captain Nathan as his wife. This subject was carefully looked into by the late George Sawin Stewart, genealogist, with the result as here stated. This is an important matter, as it affects the ancestry of a large number of New England people. Those persons in the H. B. F. whose ancestry is thus changed from Howe to Maynard, are Nos. 22 to 28, 69 to 82, inclusive, and their descendants. Nathan m. (2) Mehitable (Gould) Eaton. No ch.

John Maynard, Sr., came to Sudbury, Mass., a widower, with a son John, Jr., in 1638-9, when the son was eight years old. John, Jr. (1630-1711), m. 5 Apr., 1658, Mary, dau. of Stephen and Ann Gates, at that time living in Lancaster, Mass.; Mary d. in 1682; John, Jr., went to Marlboro in 1657 (H. M.).

Stephen Gates came in the "Diligent" with a wife and two children and was in Hingham by 1638. They removed to Cambridge, Mass., and thence in 1654 to Lancaster, where he was constable in 1657; he returned to Cambridge where he d. in 1662. His widow, Ann, m. (2) in 1663, Richard Woodward of Watertown, outlived him and d. in Stow, Mass., 5 Feb., 1683.

8 JONATHAN<sup>3</sup> BRIGHAM, Ensign, of Marlboro (1675-1768). Mary (Fay), his wife, d. 9 Nov., 1751 (not 1781). Ch. additions:

- iii Mary<sup>4</sup> Brigham, "no further reported" in Morse and H. B. F. is the only Mary in this period unaccounted for. David Bruce, probably the son of David and Mary Bruce, b. 20 Dec., 1700, m. 20 Feb., 1726-27, a Mary Brigham. Jonathan's Mary would then be a year younger than this David, and it is probable that she is the Mary of this m. Mrs. Maud (Brown) Walker, a member of the B. F. A., is a descendant of the Bruce-Brigham m. The family belief that David was a son of Roger Bruce, is not borne out by the M. V. R. dates. Roger's son, David, was b. in 1711, and at the time of the Brigham m. was about 15 yrs. old and ten yrs. younger than the only Mary of that period who was unm.

9 DAVID<sup>3</sup> BRIGHAM of Westboro, Mass. (1678-1750), m. (1) Deborah How, possibly the dau. of Ellizer (Eleazer) and Hannah (How) How (see M. V. R.); she d. 11 Oct., 1708, and a m. (C. R.) occurred 21 Oct., 1709, between David and Mary Newton. (The M. V. R. give a m. of Edward Newton and Mary Lennardson, 23 Dec., 1700, and the death of Edward Newton 8 Apr., 1704.) The Rice genealogy calls her Mary (Leonard) Newton, a widow; she d. 1 Dec., 1741; David m. (3) ———, who survived him. For the ch. of the first and second marriages see p. 87, II. B. F.

The story of the death of David is graphically told in the Diary of the Rev. Ebenezer Parkman, as follows: "June 26, 1750. When I was preparing to go to bed, came Mr. William Rogers and desired me to go to Mr. David Brigham's whom I found past speaking. He expired while I was there betw. 11 and 12 o'clock. A serious man and I hope dyd. in Cht. He was taken ill on ye Sabbath A. M. at meeting. 'Twas thought to be ye effect of a grt. Cold yt. goes abt. He was so comfortable yt Day yt p. m. ye Sun abt. Two Hours high he walked into ye other room, yet a little after Sun Sett was not able to speak any more nor understand anything. So Sudden was the Summons. I returned home about midnight. 28th * * * Attended ye Funeral of Mr. David Brigham yre being now but 3 of ye first 14 members who were in ye Foundn. of ye Chh. surviving."

- iv Jemima<sup>4</sup> Brigham m. 6 Feb., 1732-3, David Maynard of Westboro (not Edward Newton).

- v Deborah Brigham. "Feb. 14, 1752. At Eve I marryd Mr. Francis Harrington to Mrs. Deborah Brigham at her Br. Jonas' and I supped there" (Parkman Diary). Harrington was of Worcester.

10 GERSHOM<sup>3</sup> BRIGHAM of Marlboro (1680-1748-9); his 1st wife was Mehitabel (Warren), b. 1684, but no record of her d. has been found. The M. V. R. state that on the 17th of Feb., 1729-30, a m. occurred between Gershom Brigham and Mehitabel Stimpson of Weston, widow of Jonathan, and dau. of Henry and Mehitabel (Bartlett) Spring. Gershom was the only one of his name living at this time except his 18-year-old son Gershom. Not reported in the Morse genealogy or the H. B. F. Ch. additions:

- iii Abigail<sup>4</sup> (Brigham) Snow, wife of John, of Marlboro, Southboro and Chesterfield, N. H. Ch. (Snow), the M. V. R. gives the birth of the elder child only. The History of Chesterfield, N. H., furnishes a further list of children; the second to the fifth inclusive were b. in Southboro: 1 John<sup>5</sup>, the eldest, b. 25 Nov., 1729, m. 30 Dec., 1756, Sybil Mathews; is no further reported; 2 Edmund, b. 1 May, 1732; 3 Seth, b. 11 March, 1733; 4 Warren, b. 12 Feb., 1734-5, d. in Chesterfield, in 1824, m. in Lancaster, Mass., 25 Oct., 1759 (another record says 1756), Amy Harvey of Worcester. He settled first in Paxton, thence to Princeton, Mass., where a dau. Abigail<sup>6</sup> was b., who m. in Chesterfield, Perley Harris; their son, Absalom<sup>7</sup>, m. Rebecca Tyler; their great-grandchild is Walter C. Smith of Cambridge, Mass. A genealogical mystery is the parentage of Rebecca Tyler; 5 Abigail, b. 27 Dec., 1736; 6 Jerubabel, b. in Rutland, Mass., 12 Aug., 1741, d. 12 Apr., 1795, m. Mary Trowbridge of Worcester; they moved to Chesterfield; 7 Phebe, b. 5 Nov., 1748, d. in Chesterfield, 6 Mar., 1790, m. in 1768, Lieut. Moses<sup>2</sup> Smith, b. in Leicester, Mass., 10 Aug., 1743; a prominent man in Chesterfield, selectman and representative, who moved to western New York when about 81 with his son. (Ch. [Smith]: i Mary<sup>8</sup>, m. Oliver Atherton; ii Abigail, m. David Wilde; iii Salina, m. Gardner Thayer; iv Katharine, m. Mr. Bennett; v Elvira, m. Thomas Bond; vi Moses, m. Huldah Hurd and moved to western New York. His dau. Bertha m. Marshall S. Marsh, of Chicago, and furnishes this record.)

- iv Dinah Brigham (erroneously called Levinah in H. B. F.); all that follows her name in the H. B. F. should be deleted, as proof is not forthcoming of that statement.

12 SARAH<sup>3</sup> BRIGHAM (1674-?), m. Samuel Goodenow of the third generation, not Samuel of the fourth generation, as given in H. B. F. Ch. (Goodenow) additions and corrections:

- i David<sup>4</sup>, m. 8 Nov., 1722, in Marlboro, Dinah Fay, his third cousin (as shown on p. 64, under 2, i, 6, H. B. F.) and did not marry Martha Bannister. He d. Aug. 16, 1778, and his wife d. 16 Feb., 1782 (Boylston Recs.). The children on p. 88, 12, i, named as belonging to David, are the children of Daniel and Martha (Bannister) Goodenow, who were m. in 1746 (M. V. R.). Ch. (Goodenow) of David and Dinah: 1 Samuel<sup>5</sup>, b. 26 Nov., 1723; 2 Daniel, b. 1 Jan., 1724-25; 3 Timothy, b. 15 Aug., 1728; 4 Sarah, b. 14 June, 1730; 5 Dinah, b. 23 Apr., 1732; 6 David, b. 31 Aug., 1735; 7 Mehitabel, b. 5 Mar., 1738; 8 Elizabeth, b. 17 June, 1744 (W. V. R.).

14 JOHN<sup>3</sup> BRIGHAM of Sudbury, d. 29 Dec., 1729 (not 16 Sept.), in his 59th yr. His will, dated 26 Dec., 1729, was proved Apr. 13, 1730. It names his wife Martha, and the four daus. herewith, and one son, Samuel. Ch. additions:

- i Hannah<sup>4</sup> Brigham, removed with her sisters to Rutland, Mass. Delete her record, except birth-date, in H. B. F. She m. 8 June, 1747, William Allen, of Rutland, where the ch. (Allen) were born: 1 Asa<sup>5</sup>, b. 11 Apr., 1748; 2 Amos, b. 10 Jan., 1751; 3 John, bapt. 1 July, 1753.

- vi Abigail Brigham, m. in 1742, Dr. Abel Prescott of Concord, Mass.; see Prescott Gen., pp. 51, 65 and 66 for family.

15 THOMAS<sup>3</sup> BRIGHAM (1687-?), of Sudbury and perhaps Rutland, Mass.; his wife was Elizabeth (Bowker). Ch. corrections and additions:

- i John<sup>4</sup> Brigham (1726-?), is placed under No. 50, H. B. F., m. to Cate Willis and given 12 ch. This is an error, for he does not belong under that number and did not m. Cate Willis. He m. 12 Mar., 1750, Abigail Johnson (Mid. Deeds, vol. 66, pp. 63 and 64). He is undoubtedly the John Brigham referred to in the Parkman Diary: "22 Nov., 1748, * * * Mr. John Brigham of Sudbury, whose arm Dr. Gott cut off, supped with us." All that has been credited to him under No. 50 belongs to John<sup>5</sup> Brigham, son of Samuel<sup>4</sup>, No. 48, iv. Ch.: Abigail Brigham, b. 5 Dec., 1751 (Sud. V. R.).
- ii Sarah<sup>4</sup> Brigham, did not m. Reuben Willis, as stated in the H. B. F., nor do the ch. given her under No. 15 belong to her. They belong to Sarah<sup>5</sup> Brigham, No. 48, iii, who did m. Reuben Willis. Sarah<sup>4</sup> m. Capt. Daniel Bowker of Sudbury, and she d. 28 June, 1813, ae. 79, in Sudbury; her husband d. 31 Jan., 1822 (Mid. Deeds, vol. 66, p. 62, and Reg. 61, p. 16). Ch. 16 CAPT. SAMUEL<sup>3</sup> BRIGHAM (1689-?), of Marlboro. He did not die 1 Sept., 1771, as stated in H. B. F., as his will was made 23 July, 1768, and proved 24 Apr., 1771 (Mid. Prob. 1729); his wife, Abigail Moore, was the dau. of Richard and Mary (Collins) (Reg. 57, p. 304) of Oxford; she was b. 6 July, 1696, and d. 20 Nov., 1731, ae. 38; he m. (2) the widow Elizabeth (Morse) Woods (M. V. R.). The H. B. F. was in error in marrying this lady to Dr. Samuel<sup>4</sup>, Jr. Col. Benjamin Woods was her 1st husband, and they were m. 1717, when Dr. Samuel was not b.; her dau., Catharine Woods, m. Antipas Brigham, No. 64. See No. 52, this vol.

19 JOTHAM<sup>3</sup> BRIGHAM of Marlboro (1695-1759), m. Abigail How, who was probably the dau. of Abraham and Mary (Howe) How, b. 22 May, 1702. Their son: 6213

Among his children are the following data (dates uncertain) gathered by Hosea W. Brigham, No. 699: 40
- i Jotham<sup>6</sup> Brigham, b. 17 Nov., 1760, d. 4 Oct., 1848, m. Merey, dau. of Jonathan Farr, who d. 16 Dec., 1839. Jotham settled high up on the northeastern slope of Wantastiquet Mountain in Chesterfield, his house commanding a fine view of the Connecticut valley to the north. ## REVIEW

The eight children of Captain Nathan<sup>3</sup>, three sons and five daughters, settled in or very near Marlboro. When Southboro was set off from Marlboro in 1727, the residence of Lieutenant Nathan was changed to that town, his house being in the north part, and there his children of the second marriage with Hepsibah (not Elizabeth) Ward, were born. She was a widow named Snow when she married Nathan, but research has failed to give the full name of her first husband. Thomas and Ephraim were the Captain's other two sons. Both stayed in their native town, the elder settling in the southwest part. Ephraim lived on the present "Clover Hill," near where it is believed Mercy Brigham and Edmund Rice made their home with the Brigham children in the very early days. Ephraim had place and position and was rich for his day, in fact had everything but children to inherit his estate, the two that came to him dying in infancy. Thomas, on the contrary, had five sons to carry the name down, and Lieut. Nathan was blessed with six sons.

Migrations started with James<sup>4</sup> of Marlboro, son of Jonathan. In Brookfield Jonathan<sup>3</sup> had invested in a large tract of land, a great bargain, it would seem, and thither James wended his way to settle. Jesse, his brother, went first to Westboro, where he was taken over into the east part of the new town of Northboro, which became independent in 1766, and there he was prominent. No pioneer, Jesse; he was too well fixed with land. Joel, another brother, late in life became a citizen of Madison, N. Y. The death of his wife, the urge of his sons and the loss of continental money were factors in his removal from his native town, where he had long been a host to the public at his inn. Jonathan<sup>4</sup> of this family stayed in Marlboro. The first five children of Jonathan<sup>3</sup> and Mary (Fay) were girls, and there was great rejoicing when this Jonathan was born.

John, son of David<sup>3</sup>, made his home in Shrewsbury, and in later years a grandson took the western trail. John's brother Levi, the colonel, was born about the time David's farm on the shores of the beautiful Lake Naggawoomcon, or Chauncey Pond as it is now known, was set off to Westboro. The next year saw the advent of Jonas in the family, but when grown he was well content to stay in the "Hundredth town." Col. Levi was taken into Northboro, and without moving "stick or stone," had residence in three towns in his lifetime. Asa, going first to Shrewsbury, built a house long the pride of antiquarians, but abandoned it to go to Fitzwilliam, N. H., in 1775, where his death occurred two years later. New York State and Ohio disclosed in later years fine men and women of this stock. See Nos. 38-40. Silas made a second marriage with a widow who had an estate derived from her first marriage, and he removed to Lancaster, where a son David and two daughters were born. The new wife was a Prescott, one of those New England families we like to read about.

Gershom's son, Joseph<sup>4</sup>, No. 42, had the distinction of building one of the few Brigham houses in Marlboro which had the chance to stand the test of time. It was taken down only within recent years. Joseph, who married Comfort Bigelow, had a "quiver full" of children, eleven of them, who sent the Brigham name down a few generations, through two sons, but through six daughters a much larger number of descendants accrued. In this house, the fireplace was so ample one could climb through its enormous chimney to the roof. In this house Capt. Edmund<sup>5</sup> Brigham married his second wife, Elizabeth Bevel. In the course of time the junior Joseph, eighth child of this old-fashioned family, came into possession of the homestead and remained there with the wife of his youth, Lydia Barnes. The H. B. F. is in error in placing his residence in Northboro. Very lately it has been discovered that on the death of Lydia, he married a second wife, Anna Pike, a widow, whose maiden identity is unknown. It was through his eldest child, Lydia Brigham, that this place came into the hands of the Ames family, through her marriage with Moses Ames. This family treasured the collections of their ancestors, and the house became a museum of the quaint and antique, one which all visiting Brighams found interesting. Here lived for her lifetime Martha L. Ames, granddaughter of Lydia Brigham, an intellectual woman, who had a pleasing gift of writing. Of this region in autumn she records:

"You are right in thinking Glen street valley a beautiful place. One sees to-day the pond, with its heavy border of maples in varying shades of green, yellow and red; the brook, winding leisurely through close shaven meadows; the miniature cascade at the 'great gate'; the woods opposite the house, oaks, maples, birches, each with its own rich color, and the dark pines, intermingled in just the right proportion; the old mill hoary with its life of more than a century; the other buildings in various stages of dilapidation, all combine to form a picture never to be forgotten."

Gershom's son and namesake lived in Westboro; under No. 43 in this volume and the first one, interesting sidelights are thrown on this family by the Parkman Diary. Another son of Gershom, Sergeant Benjamin, inherited the Thomas Brigham place in Marlboro, and left it to his youngest son, Warren. His other sons, the Rev. Benjamin, Caleb, Benajah and Gershom No. 120, went their several ways and left sons and daughters. The home-keeping son did not "replenish the earth," and lacking descendants, left the place to Benjamin Thomas, son of Barnabas; the reason for doing so never has been explained; perhaps some matter of business or friendship, as Barnabas lived on the place. Be that as it may, it was out of the direct line of descent, and Benjamin Thomas, who was about 17 years old at the time of Warren's death, sold it outside the Brigham name.

The Connecticut family in this period is represented in the H. B. F. by the three sons of the Elnathan who emigrated there; Elnathan, whose wife is unknown, Paul and Uriah, Nos. 45-47. A grandson, Stephen, had an Elisha, whose line, not reported before, will be found in this volume under Nos. 305a and 606a. The names Don Carlos and Don Ferdinand appear in this and the next generation. It would be interesting to learn how these Spanish titles and names crept into these families of direct English descent. Several probabilities can be suggested; someone in the family was fond of history or romances, or there may have been a sea-captain or sailor in the line. The first "Don" occurs under Uriah.

In this generation occurs the error, inherited from Morse, which changes the number and the descent of some of the families out of John<sup>2</sup>. There were two Johns, one the son of Samuel<sup>4</sup>, No. 48, and one the son of Thomas<sup>3</sup>, No. 15. Their records were mixed. Thomas's John appears under No. 50, married to the girl who was really the wife of the other John, and the children under No. 50 do not belong to the John<sup>4</sup> there shown, but to the John<sup>5</sup>, son of Samuel<sup>4</sup>. The late Mr. George S. Stewart, the genealogist, unravelled this snarl, and under No. 48, this volume, the explanation is made. Also, the record of Sarah, daughter of Samuel<sup>4</sup>, is corrected. In the fifth and sixth generations the correction is also made clear, in this volume. Dr. John's grandsons, like their fathers, remained in Sudbury, Abijah<sup>4</sup> keeping the homestead.

In the Samuel<sup>2</sup> line, Dr. Samuel<sup>4</sup>, Lieut. Uriah and George, Nos. 52-54, all sons of Samuel<sup>3</sup>, remained in Marlboro, except George, who was fortunate enough to inherit his uncle Timothy's farm in Southboro, in addition to the homestead which his father left him on Brigham street, Marlboro. He became a citizen of Southboro, rather late in life. Ashbel Samuel, his son, took the Marlboro place, but sold it to Dr. Daniel Brigham, No. 541, H. B. F. Addington M. was its late and William M. Brigham is its present owner. George needed whatever consolation might come from additional prosperity, as he met with losses in other ways. Of his seventeen children, only six reached adult age. Six died in one year from some dreadful epidemic, and two in another year. The mortality among infants was something terrible in colonial days, but no Brigham family seemed to suffer in this respect as much as George Brigham's household. George was the ancestor of our lamented Rose Brigham Coford, No. 799; also of the President of the Brigham Family Association, Johnson Brigham, No. 802, now bearing the honorary title of Litt. D.; also of Albert Perry Brigham, No. 804, of Colgate University, who recently received the honorary degree of D. L., this being the third time he has been honored with a degree for his scholarly attainments; also of families in the H. B. F. from 638 to 646 inclusive. The quality of these Brighams out of George is such that we regret more of that family were not saved to benefit the world. A curious error was brought down from Morse, repeated in the H. B. F. and corrected in this volume. Dr. Samuel, No. 52, was said to have married a lady who proved to be the mother of a large family, some of them born before our Dr. Samuel saw the light. Undoubtedly, she did marry his father, when she was a widow. Dr. Samuel's third daughter's line has been unearthed in the West, and we are happy to place it under the doctor's name.

Francis of Jedediah<sup>3</sup> and Samuel<sup>2</sup> went to New Marlboro among the first arrivals in that town. Princeton drew his brother Stephen and he was one of her earliest planters. We strongly suspect that he made a second marriage which has been concealed from the world of our day, but perhaps not of his. See No. 59 this vol. Solomon stayed in Marlboro, as did Winslow, who, with something of the spirit of old Dr. John, was in and out of everything that concerned town or State, besides keeping the tannery a going concern for the benefit of many of the present day.

Jotham's sons, Abraham and Asa, remained in Marlboro, but Antipas, as if the winters in Massachusetts were not cold enough in the old days, went north as far as St. Albans. Cheaper land and soldiers' bounties in the form of land were probably the inducements that led our people into the northern and other wilds. Some of the town histories give realistic pictures of the hardships these northern frontiersmen underwent. Antipas had no sons.

A type of the race was William Brigham of Grafton, a grandson of Samuel<sup>2</sup>. Tall and muscular, one of his pastimes was to jump over five and six-foot fences without touching hand or foot. He lived to within six years of the century mark, in quietude and contentment on "Brigham Hill" in Grafton. He scorned public office but he had a grandson of the sixth generation who made up for his ancestor's deficiencies in this respect, William of Boston, No. 410, and a granddaughter of the house of this day is said not to be averse to office and is also deeply interested in Holstein cattle on this same old Grafton farm.

The year 1761 in Marlboro was a remarkable one for weather. March 19 there was an earthquake; September 30, dandelions were in bloom; October 23, a tremendous wind occurred; November 1, there was a second earthquake.

GENEALOGY

22 LIEUT. NATHAN<sup>4</sup> BRIGHAM, son of Nathan<sup>3</sup> and Elizabeth (Maynard, not Howe) of Southboro (1693-1784). Inquiry has been made about Nathan's second wife. Morse calls her a widow, Elizabeth (Ward) Snow, and gives the date of her m. to Nathan as "about 1729." The H. M. calls her Elizabeth Snow. Her name is changed in this volume from Elizabeth, as given in the H. B. F., to Hepsibah because of the death notice in the S. V. R., viz.: "Hepsibah, w. of Nathan, Nov. 15, 1748"; also because their ch. are all recorded under "Nathan and Hepsibah." S. V. R. In a search for her family the M. V. R. throw a little light upon the subject. William, Jr., and Jane Ward have a dau. recorded as "Hepsibah" b. "Dec. 30, 1708." It seems probable that these were her parents. She would have been about twenty-one at the time of her second m. and Morse says she had a dau. by her first m. Nos. 71-76, H. B. F., and families descended from them are interested in this change of name and line of descent. Ch. corrections:

- ii Eunice<sup>5</sup> Brigham, No. 68a; iii Moses Brigham, b. 1722-23 (not 1722), No. 69; vi Nathan Brigham, b. 1730-31 (not 1730), No. 71; xi Tabitha Brigham, b. 1738 (not 1739), d. 15 (not 5) July, 1740; xiii Elijah Brigham, b. 1742 (not 1743), No. 76.

24 ELIZABETH<sup>4</sup> (BRIGHAM) STOW (1700-1757) wife of John of Marlboro (1696-1761). Ch. (Stow) additions:

- i Elizabeth<sup>5</sup>, b. 17 July, 1723, m. 20 May, 1752, John Eager (M. V. R.). H. M. says that he m. an Elizabeth, last name unknown, who d. 25 May, 1750, and four ch. are recorded there, and also in the M. V. R. between 1746-1748, two being twins and dying in a few weeks. The two recorded in the H. B. F. are evidently the ch. of John Eager's first wife, and not ch. of Elizabeth Stow.
- ii Manasseh (1724-1776), had 12 ch., given in the S. V. R.; his wife was Dinah Morse.
- iii Hannah, b. 14 July, 1726, d. 19 Oct., 1800, m. 26 Nov., 1741, Beriah, son of Obadiah and Elizabeth Ward, b. 23 Jan., 1725-26. They removed to Athol, after the birth of the 5th of their 11 ch., where he d. This family will be found in the new Ward genealogy, by Charles Martyn, 1923. Mrs.

May Eliza (Donaldson), wife of Dr. A. S. McKitrick of Kenton, O., is descended from Elizabeth (Brigham) Stow, as follows: Sylvanus<sup>6</sup> Ward (4th ch. of Hannah and Beriah) (1753-1834), m. Hannah Goddard, dau. of Robert, 10 ch.; the 2d, Elizabeth<sup>7</sup>, m. Marshall Baker; the 3d of their 12 ch., Eliza<sup>8</sup>, m. Daniel G. Barker and lived in Huron Co., O.; 4 ch., of whom the 2d, Lura P.<sup>9</sup>, m. John H. Donaldson, and their 4th ch. is May Eliza<sup>10</sup> McKitrick, who has 2 ch. and 3 gr. ch.

In No. 23 the H. B. F., Nos. 24, 25, 26, 27, and 28, the children of Nathan<sup>3</sup> Brigham, viz.: Thomas, Elizabeth, Sarah, Zipporah, Hannah, and Ephraim, change the name of their mother from Elizabeth Howe to Elizabeth Maynard.

32 JONATHAN<sup>4</sup> BRIGHAM (1707-1763) and his wife Damaris (Rice) (1711-1751). Ch. correction:

- ii Mary<sup>5</sup> Brigham (173?-1807), according to the H. M. m. Jacob Switcher, 1763; and the M. V. R. record the m. of Mary Brigham on 17 Nov., 1763, to Jacob Sweetser. There is an error in the H. B. F., which gives her in m. to Thaddeus, son of Gershom and Hannah (Oaks) Fay, whose first wife was Thankful Rice. The N. V. R. state that he m. (2) 28 June, 1806, Mary Prescott of Acton, more than a year before the recorded death of Mary Brigham. This Fay-Brigham m. is recorded, as far as noted, only in the H. B. F.

33 CAPT. JESSE<sup>4</sup> BRIGHAM of Northboro (1710-1796) and his wife Bethiah (Rice) (1712-1794). See Nos. 84, 85, and 86, H. B. F., for the three elder ch. The m. of the two younger daus. were wrongly recorded in H. B. F.

- v Vashti<sup>5</sup> Brigham, m. 5 Oct., 1769, Levi Gassett (not Gage).
- vi Mary Brigham, m. 27 Mar., 1784, Jonathan Gage (not Gassett).

36 JOHN<sup>4</sup> BRIGHAM of Shrewsbury (1704-1767), m. Susanna, dau. of Samuel and Susanna Fiske, b. 8 Feb., 1706, at Groton, Mass. (Mid. Deeds, Vol. 59, 154; Butler's Groton, p. 104; Fiske Gen., p. 75). See H. B. F. for family.

37 SILAS<sup>4</sup> BRIGHAM of Westboro and Lancaster (1710-1791); his m. to his 1st wife, Mindwell Grout, occurred 11 Nov., 1735; his 2d wife, Tabitha Prescott, d. in Sept., 1801, ae. 92 yrs. (W. V. R.). Ch. by 1st m., additions:

- i Jemima<sup>5</sup> Brigham, m. 25 Jan., 1763, Constantine, son of Phin-chas and Prudence (Warren) Hardy of Westboro, b. 6 Mar., 1736-7, d. 16 Mar., 1777. Ch. (Hardy) b. in Westboro: 1 Mindwell<sup>6</sup>, b. 27 Nov., 1763, m. 29 May, 1785, Elijah Whitney; they had 8 sons and 2 daus. (see W. V. R.); 2 Constantine, b. 10 June, 1767; 3 Rachel, b. 21 Apr., 1769;

- 4 Silas, b. 17 May, 1771; 5 Mary, b. 30 Apr., 1773; 6 Tabitha, b. 26 Mar., 1775, d. 15 Dec., 1841; 7 Prudence, b. 18 Oct., 1777, d. 12 Dec., 1841.
- iv Mindwell Brigham, m. 2 Jan., 1777, Nathaniel Lampson of Westboro.
- v Mary Brigham, m. 12 Dec., 1776, Jonathan Prescott, Jr. (not Mary No. 43, vii, as in H. B. F.).

39 CAPT. JONAS<sup>4</sup> BRIGHAM of Westboro (1718-1789). His wife was Persis, the dau. of Edward and Persis (Brigham) Baker, who was the dau. of Samuel<sup>2</sup> Brigham, b. 1 Nov., 1726, and d. 3 Nov., 1784. It should be noted that this m. gives the descendants of Jonas and Persis a line of descent from Samuel<sup>2</sup> Brigham, youngest son of Thomas<sup>1</sup>, as well as from Thomas<sup>2</sup> Brigham, the eldest son. Ch., correction:

- iii The H. B. F. inserts the name of Hannah in the list of children that belong to Jonas and Persis Brigham. No such ch. is recorded in that family in the W. V. R., nor any m. of Hannah Brigham and Holloway Fish. It is known that Holloway Fish m. Hannah Harrington. We therefore delete the record of a Hannah under this number. Lucy Harrington, sister of Hannah, m. David Brigham, No. 108. They had a son Holloway (see No. 268), and Holloway Fish is said to have adopted him.

40 MAJOR ASA<sup>4</sup> BRIGHAM of Shrewsbury (1721-1777). After his removal to Fitzwilliam, N. H., as stated in the H. B. F., an old New Hampshire record shows that the N. H. Legislature voted that Asa Brigham be Second Major in Col. Enoch Hale's regiment, the date of the appointment being 2 Nov., 1775.

42 JOSEPH<sup>4</sup> BRIGHAM of Marlboro (1706-1786) and his 1st wife, Comfort (Bigelow) (1707-1755), lived in the "Joseph Brigham" house. Ch. additions:

- xi Lucy<sup>5</sup> (Brigham) Stratton (1752-?), wife of Samuel<sup>5</sup>, No. 61, iv. Ch. (Stratton), b. in Marlboro: 1 Winsor<sup>6</sup>, bapt. 23 June, 1771, m. Anna Wood. (Ch. [Stratton]: Jonah<sup>7</sup> Brigham, b. 20 Mar., 1791); 2 Lucy, bapt. 13 Sept., 1772, d. 27 Mar., 1840, G. S. I., m. Winsor or Windsor Morse, b. 18 Aug., 1765, d. 23 June, 1832. (Ch. [Morse]: i Otis<sup>7</sup>, b. 30 July, 1792; ii Charles, b. 22 Aug., 1797, d. 25 Aug., 1800; iii Mary Ward, b. 14 July, 1799; iv Aaron Ward, b. 13 Oct., 1801, m. Abigail Hale of Stow; [their son George, b. in Berlin, 12 Feb., 1839, now living in Hudson, has 2 lines of descent from Thomas the Emigrant; m. Abbie J. Roe, and their 4th child, Frank W.<sup>9</sup> Morse, M.D., who

d. 7 Feb., 1916, m. Lydia M. Rice, a descendant of Hannah (Brigham) Gleason, No. 134a, this vol.]; v Sukey, b. 27 Aug., 1803; vi William, b. 6 June, 1805; vii Wealthy, b. 21 June, 1806. A son Roland is given in the M. V. R., who probably belongs between Otis and Charles.)

43 GERSHOM<sup>4</sup> BRIGHAM of Westboro (1712-?); his 1st wife, Mary (Lee), d. 5 Sept., 1780. The W. V. R. state that Gershom Brigham and Bulah Bellows were m. 16 Sept., 1782, a C. R. not entered in either of the Brigham genealogies. Ch., 1st. m., additions:

- i Hepsibah<sup>5</sup> Brigham, b. 20 Jan., 1741-42, and no further reported in the H. B. F. No other ch. is recorded anywhere as being b. until 1747. Yet, the following from the Diary of the Rev. Ebenezer Parkman indicates that in 1745 there were 2 ch. in the family: "21 Oct., 1745. Visited * * * Mr. Gershom Brighams family who have all been sick of the * * * (Distemper) and has buried one Child whilst I was absent. Mrs. Brigham and yr remaining Child now sick. 23d. My wife and I were at the Funeral of Mr. Gershom Brigham's other child." It is probable that Hepsibah was one of these two ch.
- 120A iii Seth Brigham b. 22 June, 1750, m. 22 Oct., 1778, Eunice Palmer. This is a C. R. and was not entered in the H. B. F.
- vii Mary Brigham; it is suggested in the H. B. F. that she m. Jonathan Prescott, Jr., of Lancaster, but this is reported as a mistake.

48 SAMUEL<sup>4</sup> BRIGHAM of Sudbury (1716-?); the name of his wife Mary is unknown. Ch. corrections:

- i Martha<sup>5</sup> (Brigham) Goodenow, and her husband John, did not have the dau. Elizabeth given them in the H. B. F. She was the dau. of John and Mary (Read) Goodenow, and b. 10 Feb., 1770, five years before Martha and John were m.
- iii Sarah Brigham, m. Reuben Willis of Sudbury, and the ch. on p. 90, H. B. F., under No. 15, ii, belong to them; they were m. 13 Mar., 1765. See the list of their ch. under No. 133a, this vol.
- iv John Brigham m. 15 Oct., 1772, Cate, dau. of Elijah and Abigail (Smith) Willis, b. 10 Oct., 1750. See record under 133b, this vol.
- viii Phebe Brigham was b. 11 June, 1752, in Sudbury, instead of 13 Jan., 1751.
- ix Hannah (Brigham) Gleason, No. 134a, this vol.

49 SARAH<sup>4</sup> (BRIGHAM) BROWNE (not Brown), wife of Capt. Samuel Browne of Rutland, Mass. Ch. (Browne) additions and corrections:

- i Abels<sup>5</sup>, b. 18 Sept., 1739; m. 4 Dec., 1760, Amity How of Rutland.
- ii Abigail, b. 16 July, 1743 (instead of 1746); m. 22 Nov., 1764, David Davis of Rutland.

- iv Samuel, b. 17 June, 1749; d. 10 Sept., 1756.
- v Alpheus, b. 1 Mar., 1752. His descendant, Charles Brigham Browne of Rutland, was local historian.

F. except their numbering. Delete foot-note, p. 115, H. B. F.

50 JOHN<sup>4</sup> BRIGHAM did not marry Cate Willis, and did not have the ch. given him in the H. B. F. under this section. He m. 12 Mar., 1750, Abigail Johnson (Mid. Deeds, Vol. 66, pp. 63 and 64). Ch.: Abigail<sup>5</sup> Brigham, b. 5 Dec., 1751. (See No. 15, i, H. B. F.)

- i Abel<sup>5</sup> Brigham, m. 13 Nov., 1783, Lydia Melvin, of Concord; his further record in the H. B. F. is correct. Ch. additions: 1 Abel<sup>6</sup> Brigham, b. 1 Oct., 1784; 2 Lucy Melvin Brigham, b. 31 Jan., 1787; 3 Rebecca Brigham, b. 12 Feb., 1789.

52 DR. SAMUEL<sup>4</sup> BRIGHAM of Marlboro (1723-1756) did not die in the West Indies, as stated in H. B. F., but in Marlboro, 15 Feb., 1756. He did not marry the widow, Elizabeth Wood, who did marry his father, as given in this volume under No. 16. Dr. Samuel m. as his first and only wife, at the age of 29, 9 Jan., 1751-2, Anna Gott, who m. (2) Capt. Stephen Maynard, as recorded in the H. B. F. Ch. additions and corrections:

His wife was Mary (Bragg) of Shrewsbury, and they had the largest number of children among the Brighams, seventeen in all. Much sorrow was mingled with George's good fortune, for they reared but six of the family. Two sons carried down the male line, and the two daus. spared them, married Brighams. See H. B. F.

REVIEW

Two figures attract attention in the "History of the Brigham Family" as we reach this period—Judge Elijah Brigham of Westboro and Lieut. Gov. Paul Brigham of Vermont.

To the Rev. Ebenezer Parkman of Westboro, antiquarians, genealogists and all lovers of realistic pictures of colonial homes and days owe a large debt. His vivid portrayal of the men and women living in that obscure village in Massachusetts is so true to life that it may readily be regarded as representative of the "days and ways" of all rural New England. As Howells expresses it of another writer, he had "the secret of closely adding detail to detail in a triumph of * * * 'Littleism' but which seems to be nature's way of achieving 'Largeism.'" In this story of the people of his parish, Mr. Parkman touches the early life of Elijah Brigham here and there, often in a way to tantalize the seeker for details of the life of a youth of promise. We see the young man visiting the parsonage with his chums. Singing is the only pastime mentioned, but Elijah was courting a daughter of the house, and he doubtless found even the old psalms invested with a charm such as youth and love can throw about anything. None of these too brief glimpses suggest attainments such as would lead to the high positions he later occupied. He served his town as selectman three times; twice he was a representative to the General Court and he was a member of the Senate for twelve years. He covered a period of sixteen years as Judge of the Court of Common Pleas for Worcester County. By 1810 he was elected to Congress and spent much of his time thereafter, until his death, in Washington, D. C. A tribute to his character by the Rev. Abner Morse is quoted on page 152 of "The History of the Brigham Family."

Elijah's sister, Susanna Brigham, married Breck Parkman, son of the minister, and from their seven children have descended some of the leading families of eastern Massachusetts. The foot-notes under Nos. 100 and 106 of the H. B. F. are interesting examples of the diary.

Lieut.-Gov. Paul Brigham had a military career in the Continental army, entering it as captain in 1777, serving four years, and taking part in the battles of Germantown, Fort Mifflin and Monmouth, and wintering in Valley Forge in that fearful year, 1777-78. Until after the war he was of Coventry, Conn., being a grandson of that Elnathan who in the third generation removed to Mansfield in that State. In 1782 Paul became a citizen of Norwich, Vt., and thenceforth he led a busy life. The offices he held, such as town clerk, high sheriff, Judge of County Court, Brigadier-General of the Third Brigade, one of the State Land Commissioners, a legislative member and Major-General of the Fourth Division of Militia, may be regarded as an admirable preparation for a twenty-year period as Lieut.-Governor of Vermont.

The army under Gen. Washington was well filled with Brighams of the fifth generation. In Appendix B of the H. B. F. will be found as complete a list of the men who served their country as it was possible to make. We often think we should like to have been in Westboro on the 19th of April, 1775, when, probably about two or three o'clock in the morning of that lovely spring day, the peach trees sending out their beauty and the fragrance of their blossoms, some of the sons of the town started on the long journey to Concord and Lexington, led by Capt. Edmund Brigham, No. 73, whose eldest son marched behind his father; Captain William Brigham, No. 74, brother of Edmund, was at the head of another company of Minute Men, with Ithamar Brigham, No. 81, one of his Lieutenants; also Elijah Brigham, No. 76, in another company as Lieutenant. They all arrived too late to be in the forefront of the battle, but there was much serious work for them to do, and they performed it well. Among others who marched on the Alarm was Timothy, No. 84, afterwards a colonel, and Artemas, who became a sergeant and later a lieutenant; also Captain Paul, No. 82, who marched as 2d lieutenant. There were four companies and 196 men who marched from Marlboro on that portentous morning to answer the call sent out "to every Middlesex village and farm."

The second Nathan's son Moses was a Westboro citizen with an interesting old house described in the H. B. F. William and his wife died of the small-pox and their place of burial became the Brigham Cemetery of Marlboro. Nathan, the Indian fighter, has descendants of the present day in only one family, that of his granddaughter, who married Lincoln Brigham of Westboro. Ebenezer seems like a pathetic figure, dying early at 24 leaving a little daughter. Elijah was a very prominent citizen of Southboro, having a 30-year period as selectman; a representative to the General Court, and in the Revolution had service as one of the Minute Men who went to Concord and Lexington. He has a notable line of descendants from his thirteen children, twelve of whom lived to adult age. Two of his daughters married Brighams, and from his son and grandson, Elijahs both, descended Dr. Edwin Howard Brigham, so many years the librarian of the Massachusetts Medical Society, recently deceased at an advanced age. A grandson was the late Judge Lincoln Brigham, and others were merchants in Boston, Joseph Lincoln and Erastus Forbes Brigham. Edmund, whose interesting will is given in the H. B. F., has been already mentioned. His large family has many descendants noted further on. Hepsibah, who married John Taplin, and her dozen children were pioneers to Vermont from Southboro. New material concerning them will be found in this volume. She had several sons in the Revolution.

Thomas<sup>4</sup>, of the first Nathan line, had five sons whose good-sized families add considerably to the genealogical story of this and the succeeding periods. His son Aaron had the second largest family on record, that of 16 children. These very large families do not have as many descendants in the later generations as many of the smaller. Much new material of interest may be found in this volume of Ezekiel's family, through whose missionary descendant we probably owe the fact that an Indian assumed the name of Brigham. His grandson, named Hall, worked with a tribe of Indians, translating the Bible, being very friendly with the Chief. See No. 79, viii. Captain Paul had much service in the Revolution, and left many descendants. Noah's family, No. 83, has little more than mere genealogical interest in the next generation. Searching through some old papers, an old receipt was found in which Abraham Brigham acknowledges the receipt of three hundred pounds, nineteen shillings and ninepence, from Uriah Brigham, "in full of all demands against him as my 'gardian' till I was twenty-one years of age." Dated May 27th, 1793, and attested by Abner Brigham. These are probably the two youngest sons of Ithamar, No. 81, the father having died in 1784, when this boy was about thirteen years of age.

A sad case of the ruin brought to many well-to-do men by the depreciation of Continental money, is that of Col. Timothy Brigham, No. 84. His brother, Lieut. Artemas, went to Northboro, and six of his sons left descendants in that town and elsewhere, as shown in the H. B. F.

The sons of Joel<sup>4</sup>, particularly William, Jonathan, John and Samuel, Nos. 87 to 91, raised large families in various parts of New York State and helped to people Ohio and other western states. We shall meet a number of them in the next and following periods.

The Brookfield Brighams, Nos. 92-94, gave a good account of themselves in this series of years, and we are fortunate in the next generation to have additional records. Capt. Tilly inherited over 300 acres of James<sup>4</sup>'s land and lived and died in Brookfield bringing up a family of eight children. The old house, pictured in Volume 1, does not look any too large to accommodate this good-sized family. Out of all this family, we have been able to trace down to this day, but few of the name. See 229, xi, and 509, this volume. Elisha received the same amount of land and his eldest son, James, went to Vermont, and we find later on his descendants in New York State. Interesting additions to the records of his son Sylvanus will be found in this volume. The remaining land which James<sup>4</sup> left in Brookfield, went to Jonathan, but his seven children's records are meagre, and the male line of Lot, if any, has not been found. Silas and Elisha did not marry and William's son died.

The Shrewsbury line of David<sup>5</sup> produced some excellent people, and among them that Ebenezer who was so highly regarded in the West. John, David's brother, went to Phillipston in the northern part of the State, a little old hamlet still existing, but none of his children remained there (we can't blame them), and his son, Dr. Samuel, founded quite a family in the West. See 232 and 513, H. B. F.

Emigration took place to Fitzwilliam, N. H., by Levi, No. 98, son of Col. Levi of Northboro and two or three other places

(the colonel traveled a great deal while remaining in his own house), and brother of Judge Elijah. This region, under the shadow of Mt. Monadnock, drew many Brighams for no reason it is now possible to understand, unless it was for the scenery. Levi left sturdy descendants of his two sons and seven daughters, and many remained in New Hampshire, and others made homes in Wisconsin and further west.

Asa, of Shrewsbury, whose gabled roof house was standing there in 1894, with its immense fireplace in the center of the house, was already in Fitzwilliam with his sons, Leonard, Stephen and Josiah, Nos. 112-114, who moved on, two into New York State and one, Leonard, to Vermont. Stephen did not go farther than Vernon and Whitestown, N. Y., but through his son Sullivan, whose son Mavor went to Toledo, brought into our family of Brighams, the beloved president of the Brigham Family Association, Charles O., and the interesting Toledo family, his brothers and sisters. See this volume, in the next generations.

David Brigham's descendants have been noted not only for numbers but also for quality. Capt. Jonas<sup>4</sup>, No. 39, brother of Col. Levi, sent out into the world men and women whose progeny have been of the exceedingly worthwhile sort of people. His namesake and eldest son, Capt. Jonas<sup>5</sup>, No. 103, went to faraway Bakersfield, by way of Brookfield; in the latter place he stayed long enough to make a good record in the War of the Revolution, and then took a leading part in the affairs of Bakersfield, whence for seventeen consecutive years he went to the legislature. It was asserted in the H. B. F. that he married a second time, the lady being called Polly Wyman. This marriage should rightly be attributed to his distant cousin, Jonas<sup>5</sup> of Sudbury and Dublin, N. H., No. 136. Capt. Jonas<sup>5</sup>, it has been lately learned, married Mrs. Abigail Smith of Phillipston. Jonas was the ancestor of our former President of the Brigham Family Association, now one of the editors of the Boston Evening Transcript, and Washington Correspondent of that paper from 1907 to 1925; also of Robert B. and Elizabeth F. Brigham, whose magnificent hospital for incurables stands on Parker Hill in Boston. Interesting discoveries have been made through western correspondence, in the line of Edward, another son of this family, No. 104, whose marriage to Sally Miller is noted in the Parkman Diary, and who went to Milton, Vermont, where he had five sons born to him, grandsons of Jonas. An excellent branch of the family comes down through Edward, Jr., Nos. 259, 540, and lastly, 540a, the only daughter of the house, whose record was left out in the H. B. F. Antipas, No. 106, whose first marriage is so vividly described in the foot-notes on page 157 of the first volume, had two more marriages to his credit. None of his nine children have been traced, save Nelly, whose grandson was unexpectedly met with in the city of Seattle, years ago. Antipas went to St. Albans, but died in New York State. A family in Rochester have an ancestor of that name, but we do not know enough of the line to enable us to place them surely. Barnabas of this family went to North Brookfield, David and Joseph remained in Westboro, and Dr. Daniel, who has been mentioned as buying the Samuel<sup>3</sup> farm, titles to which have always been from Brigham to Brigham, kept to the high mark of the race by being the leading surgeon of his day.

Dr. Gershom No. 120, son of Gershom<sup>4</sup>, and his wife, Esther Belknap, had a family of eight children, whose records are given more fully in our new book than in H. B. F. Herbert O. and Clarence S. Brigham, leading librarians of Providence and Worcester, are descendants. Dr. Gershom appears to have done a good deal of traveling between Westboro and Fitzwilliam, practising in each town. A second marriage of the doctor to Mrs. Sarah Bush of Bolton was arranged, as intentions were published 1 January, 1803, and the marriage occurred February 15th of that year.

Our first Harvard graduate, the Rev. Benjamin Brigham, No. 121, born on the Thomas<sup>2</sup> farm in Marlboro, was drawn by the lure of Fitzwilliam, and there he lived, labored and died. His brother, Gershom, No. 125, went to Fayston, Vt., by way of Winchester, N. H., and now, with his wife, Sarah Allen, he rests in the hill cemetery overlooking the home of their last years. Out of this line came Willard I. T. Brigham, our genealogist. Caleb, No. 122, another brother, had a son David<sup>6</sup>, trace of whom was lost. The line has been discovered and will be found well worth attention. Benajah, No. 123, has descendants in or around Boston, as well as elsewhere, whose careers are honorable.

The Connecticut lines produced many men of affairs, as we have seen in the case of Gov. Paul. Stephen, No. 126, had a rather imperfect record in the H. B. F., but we have found a family of descendants of interest, under 305a and 605a.

The progeny of John<sup>2</sup> did little roving, staying in or near their home town or State, and the call of the West did not affect any of the next period, but we find two Southern branches further on.

An interesting man was Dr. Samuel of the Samuel<sup>2</sup> line, No. 144. Incapacitated from practising his profession, through an accident, he found compensations in the composition of music, in writing essays and verses, and he was a magistrate. Through his seven daughters, many Western families can claim Brigham blood. He had no male issue.

Bakersfield, Vt., is an interesting place to our family, as two of its sons went forth destined to acquire fortunes which are now being used to relieve physical suffering. (See Appendix E, H. B. F.)

Uriah, Sr., of Marlboro, "had lived while he lived" with but little thought for those who would come after him. Consequently, there was not much to share among his eleven children, and his sons, having to work out the future, each for himself, went in different directions. Henry<sup>5</sup> went to Barre, where he founded a long and interesting line of Brighams; Edward to Petersham, and we notice among his descendants, two physicians and one philanthropist, Franklin Brigham Fay, Secretary for many years of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children; John Gott remained in Marlboro and enterprising business men are of his stock; Uriah Jr., No. 147, father of Peter Bent<sup>6</sup> Brigham, No. 343, who amassed one of the fortunes spoken of, took a most serious journey from Marlboro to Bakersfield, Vt., in an ox-team with his wife, Elizabeth (Fay), about the year 1796. Presumably the cow traveled alongside, as was the case with some Tyler pioneers who went to Pennsylvania. They had with them three, perhaps four, children. Peter was not born for another decade, but came to Boston as a young man to perform his mission to the world. When the rest of us are dust and forgotten, the two hospitals founded by Peter Bent and his nephew, Robert Breck, born in Bakersfield, will be assisting the weak and helpless men and women toward health or easing their passage to another realm. Another son of Uriah, Sr., John Gott Brigham, had been in the Revolutionary army, which perhaps accounted for a curious fashion in his appearance at church. He always entered with a long whip carried over his shoulder as he marched with military bearing the whole length of the church to the farthest pew in the gallery, where with great care he deposited the whip and his hat. At the end of the sermon he left the church in the same way. It must have been a sight!

One of the Abrahams, either No. 62 or 81, used to come to church on horseback, as did Warren Brigham and Caleb, No. 122, who invariably wore knee buckles.

The churches in the old days were unheated, and small foot-stoves were carried by the women, or thoroughly heated bricks. It is no wonder that consumption became a New England disease, for the services were not short and the chill of the meeting-house was great.

Phineas<sup>5</sup>, No. 149, son of George<sup>4</sup>, one of the six out of seventeen children who survived the epidemics of his childhood, went into that paradise for Brighams, New York State, whence we find his offspring of the next few generations venturing into Pennsylvania, Illinois, Iowa, Oklahoma and California. Among them is the President of the Brigham Family Association, Dr. Johnson Brigham of Des Moines, son of another Phineas, No. 640.

John<sup>5</sup>, No. 155, of that Francis<sup>4</sup> who ventured as far as New Marlboro when the wilderness lay between the mother town and her child, took up the line of march into New York State, and he has to his credit among his sons, one clergyman and one eminent doctor, of whom more in another section, with some excellent business men farther down.

The Princeton family scattered around through New Hampshire, Vermont, New York, Ohio, Michigan and Minnesota, but kept a firm hold on the family place in Princeton for seventy years and more.

The nine sons and daughters of Winslow<sup>4</sup> kept up the family tradition of many children, and at the same time fostered the leather industry through the business acumen of the brothers Capt. Daniel<sup>5</sup>, Capt. Aaron and Major Jediah.

Artemas went to Bridgton, Me., but one of his sons, James Madison<sup>6</sup>, returned to Massachusetts, and his son, William D., lives in Dorchester, a deacon in the Second Church there, its building known as the old Codman Meeting-house. He is also a worker in present day reforms.

The daughter of Fortunatus<sup>5</sup>, No. 168, Nancy, did an excellent thing for the Brigham family when she married Joel<sup>7</sup> Brigham, No. 480, for from them come the present day Northboro Brighams, through Ira, Abraham, John and Samuel, Nos. 742-745, who have double lines of Brigham heritage; also some of the Warren family, from Phebe Brigham, daughter of Nancy and Joel, who have more Brigham blood than many who bear the name. See this volume, 742a.

Jotham, No. 170, remained in Marlboro, where his daughter Lucy married Edward Barnes, and there were three doctors among their eight children. Dr. Edward, born in 1809, though he did not bear the Brigham name, displayed the traits of our best men. He married Ashbel Brigham's daughter, Maria E., and was a physician of unusual training for those days, the early 19th century, taking the medical course at Harvard College and completing his studies in Paris, by 1846. He succeeded Dr. Baker (whose daughter married William Pitt Brigham) as the principal physician of Marlboro, where Dr. Barnes was greatly appreciated until his death in 1878. Northboro was the scene of the life-work of another brother, Dr. Henry, and Wayland was the home of Dr. Charles W. Barnes.

When Samuel<sup>2</sup> and Nathan<sup>3</sup> were concerned in the purchase of the land from the Indians in Grafton, they acquired much property. Some of it can be traced in the family to the present day. The homestead on "Brigham Hill" in that town is still occupied by descendants of William, No. 410. When you have time, look at the children under Capt. Charles Brigham, No. 171, and follow them down, in both books, and see the type of Brighams in this case which descended from the youngest son of Thomas the Puritan.

69 MOSES<sup>5</sup> BRIGHAM was b. 2 Jan., 1722-23 (not 1722). The Rev. Ebenezer Parkman of Westboro, where Moses lived, records in his diary on the 13th of June, 1769, the following: "I went to see poor Mr. Moses Brigham who is very bad with his cough, and prayed with him as well as spent time with him in discourse to quicken and forward him in his preparation. He asks me to preach there at some convenient time, seeing he has been so long confined at home." He d. 3 Dec., 1769, about six months after this visit. His wife was Mehitable (Grout), who survived him nearly 26 years. They had 7 ch. See H. B. F.

71 CAPT. NATHAN<sup>5</sup> BRIGHAM of Southboro (1730-1-1806), was the son of Lieut. Nathan<sup>4</sup> and Hepsibah (not Elizabeth) (Ward) Brigham.

72 HEPSIBAH<sup>5</sup> (BRIGHAM) TAPLIN (1732-1815), was the dau. of Lieut. Nathan<sup>4</sup> and Hepsibah (not Elizabeth) (Ward) Brigham, and the wife of Col. John (1726-1803). Col. Taplin is said by one of their descendants, Dr. C. W. Drew of Minneapolis, to have served only in the French and Indian War in 1755 and 1756, and did not serve in the Revolutionary war, but like many others went to Canada. This is in direct contradiction of the H. B. F. story. Five of his sons served at various times in that war. The record in H. B. F. that Hepsibah's children were born in Corinth is incorrect. They resided in or about Marlboro until 1764, when they went to Newbury, Vt., and to Corinth about 1780. Some of the items given below are from "Thirty Dunstable Families," by Ezra Stearns, with notes from S. Harrison Lovewell of Arlington, Mass. Ch. (Taplin):

- vii Nathan was a soldier of the War of 1812. In the S. V. R. a m. 28 Oct., 1776, is recorded of Nathan Taplin and Elizabeth Taylor. She was probably the dau. of Ezra and Abigail (Trowbridge) Taylor of Southboro, b. 12 June, 1752. Ch. Under Nos. 73 to 76, H. B. F., Edmund, William, Ebenezer and Elijah Brigham were the sons of Hepsibah (not Elizabeth) Ward Brigham.

75 EBENEZER<sup>5</sup> BRIGHAM of Southboro, d. 25 Feb., 1765, ae. 24 yrs., 8 mos. The name of his wife Martha has not been found.

His son Ephraim was one of the executors of his will, not Elisha, as stated in the H. B. F. 11 of his ch. d. y. or unm. and only 1 had descendants, who has a record reaching to the present time, viz.: Ephraim, No. 204. Ch. whose family has been recently found:

- i Abner<sup>6</sup> Brigham (1750-51—about 1800), had sons Thomas<sup>7</sup> and Joseph; the latter d. in Weathersfield, Vt., 30 July, 1801, ae. 15 yrs.; his grave was found in an isolated burial ground in W., a stone giving the date. 14 Mar., 1800, Aaron Hall (No. 79, viii), was appointed guardian of the minor son, Thomas, of Abner Brigham, "Late deceased." This points to the period of Abner's death and gives the name of one of Abner's sons, hitherto unknown. An untraced Martha Brigham of Hartland, Vt., would be of the right age to be one of the children of Abner, as she was b. in 1781.
- ii Martha<sup>6</sup> (Brigham) Leland, wife of Benjamin, d. in Grafton, 11 Feb., 1822.
- vi Miriam (Brigham) Gallop, wife of Joseph, had children living in 1848.
- vii Huldah (Brigham) Rockwood, wife of Moses, had children living in 1848. In 1832 she was living in Grafton in failing health.
- viii Sarah (Brigham) Hall, wife of Aaron, d. 27 Nov., 1835, and passed down to her descendants a pewter service, a wooden snuff box and her gold beads. The beads were given to the oldest daughter in each generation. Facts regarding this family were gleaned from a large number of letters written by Oliver M. Brigham (205, v) and Diademia (205, vii), and others in the family. The date of death of Diademia is not known, but her last letter was written in 1884, when she was ae. 83. Ch. (Hall): 1 Aaron<sup>7</sup>, Jr., b. in Grafton, 4 June, 1793, d. 27 Mar., 1855, m. Rachel Richards of Weathersfield, Vt., in 1817; 2 Sherman, b. in Weathersfield, 30 Apr., 1800, d. in Minnesota, 1 Sept., 1879, m. Betsey Parker; was a graduate of Dartmouth College and Andover Theological Seminary; a lifelong missionary to the Indians; translated part of the Bible into the Ojibway language, and for that purpose made it a written language. The Indian minister who assumed the name of Brigham (see Persons Who Have Assumed the Name of Brigham) was of the Ojibway tribe of Indians, and it is possible that Brighams connected with Sherman Hall contributed toward his work and made the name of Brigham familiar to these Indians; 3 Sarah Brigham, b. 31 July, 1805, d. 14 Sept., 1829 m. William Haskell; 4 Lydia, b. 12 June, 1807, d. 8 Feb., 1880, m. Daniel Burbank. All of the above named persons have descendants living. The Sally, mentioned (viii, 1) in H. B. F., was not the child of Sarah (Brigham) Hall, but the dau. of another Hall, Aaron K., not of this family.

80 ELISHA<sup>5</sup> BRIGHAM of Grafton, Mass. (1726-?); his wife was Sarah (Roberts), m. 30 Dec., 1756. Both his sons d. in boyhood; his dau. Sarah<sup>6</sup> (Brigham) Daniels, wife of Zebulon, had a family of eight ch. See H. B. F. No. 207. The youngest ch. of Elisha, Molly Brigham (1769-1823), had a son who may have been adopted by his grandfather: 4/7/23

84 COL. TIMOTHY<sup>5</sup> BRIGHAM of Westboro and Northboro (1735-6-1828). His wife was Lydia (Wood). They had a family of 11 ch. Of these only two have been traced. The N. V. R. report a m. between Samuel Wright and a Betsey Brigham, on 10 Mar., 1802. Col. Timothy's youngest dau. was Betsey<sup>6</sup>, b. 22 Oct., 1783, and would have been 19 at the time of this m.

85 LIEUT. ARTEMAS<sup>5</sup> BRIGHAM of Westboro and Northboro, Mass. (1739-1802); his wife was Keziah (Rice) (1741-1806), and they had eleven children. Five sons are represented in the next generation. One son, the eldest, was only named in the H. B. F. and is herewith given:

103 CAPT. JONAS<sup>5</sup> BRIGHAM of North Brookfield, Mass., and Bakersfield, Vt. (1748-1 Dec., 1826). The statement in H. B. F. that he m. (2) Polly Wyman, 10 Nov., 1810, is an error. The Phillipston V. R. give the m. on 23 Jan., 1804, of Jonas Brigham of Bakersfield and Mrs. Abigail Smith. The inscriptions on the stones in Bakersfield cemetery read: "Annah (his first wife, see H. B. F.) d. 14 Oct., 1802, ae. 53; Abigail (2d wife) d. 16 July, 1840, ae. 76." He had 10 ch. by 1st m. See H. B. F. The first wife of Jonas of Sudbury was Polly Wyman.

106 ANTIPAS<sup>5</sup> BRIGHAM of Westboro and St. Albans, Vt., later Schoharie, N. Y. (1758-1840), and his wife, Hepsibah<sup>6</sup> (Brigham) (1760-1789). They had six children, none of whom have been traced, except Nelly<sup>6</sup>, their third child, who is believed to have married a man named Cone, and her grandson, William Brigham<sup>8</sup> Cone, lived, a few years ago, in Seattle, Wash. He was apparently named for Nelly's next older brother. See foot-notes p. 157, H. B. F.

ii Wright Brigham, has been no further reported. Recently a letter from Miss Martha E. Pond, Librarian of Manitowac, Wis., opens up an interesting query. She states that a Wright Brigham lived in Smithfield, N. Y., Madison Co., where he is listed in the records as a pioneer. He had two sons, at least, viz: Philander Brigham and Melancthon Asaph Brigham. Philander remained in New York State, and some of his descendants live in the vicinity of Smithfield, among them Frank Gill of Morrisville, N. Y. Melancthon Asaph Brigham's Bible is in the possession of a descendant in Wisconsin, showing he was b. in Smithfield 13 Sept., 1804. If our Wright was his father, he was 36 yrs. old when the boy was born. Melancthon m. 8 Mar., 1827, Sarah Grey, b. in Pelham, Mass., June, 1804. In the period of the '40s or '50s they went to Wisconsin, Melancthon dying soon after. Their ch. are: 1 Celestia Brigham, m. Norton McShooler; 2 Henry Brigham, m. Martha Morehouse; 3 Grace Brigham, m. Charles Bliss; 4 Watkins Brigham, m. Libby Haskins; 5 Elizabeth Brigham, m. Samuel Marston, from whom Miss Pond descends; 6 Sarah Brigham, m. Edwin Peck. The fact that this Wright Brigham named a son Asaph, our Wright having an elder brother of that name, is a clue that genealogists like to find; the fact that three of our Wright's brothers went West to New York State makes it probable that he too took up the trail with or after them. If any of the sons had remained in the East the tragic fate of their mother would have been impossible. See H. B. F., No. 110.

- vi Lydia<sup>6</sup> (Brigham) Foster, wife of Jedediah of Jaffrey, N. H. Ch. (Foster): 1 Alpheus B.<sup>7</sup>, d. in Jaffrey 13 Jan., 1819, ae. 10 yrs.; 2 Roxana, b. 8 Aug., 1810; 3 Sophronia, b. 11 July, 1816.

119 LIEUT. JOSEPH<sup>s</sup> BRIGHAM of Marlboro (1743-1810). His 1st wife was Lydia Barnes (1743-1784), and their dau. Lydia m. Moses Ames, which carried the so-called "Joseph Brigham house" on Glen street into the Ames family. He m. (2) 20 Apr., 1786, the widow, Anna Pike, whose maiden name is unknown; she m. (3) 1 Jan., 1812, James Stone, of Northboro. The record in the H. B. F. that Joseph lived in Northboro is erroneous.

120 DR. GERSHOM<sup>s</sup> BRIGHAM of Westboro and Fitzwilliam, N. H. (1747-?). After the death of his wife, Esther (Belknap), in 1801, who was the mother of his children, Dr. Brigham m. 15 Feb., 1803, Mrs. Sarah Bush of Bolton (Bolton V. R.). and Abigail (Smith) Willis, b. 10 Oct., 1750. On p. 115, No. 50, attributed to John<sup>4</sup>, No. 15, i, son of Thomas and Elizabeth (Bowker) Brigham, will be found a list of children which belong to John<sup>5</sup> and his wife Cate (Willis) Brigham. There are 12 of them, and they are of the 6th generation and not the 5th. The sons Samuel<sup>6</sup>, Elijah, Eber and William, should have appeared with their families on p. 282 of the H. B. F., preceding Peter, No. 316, and following Edwin G., No. 315, their numbers being 315, a, b, c and d. The ch. are not repeated here as they are correctly given under No. 50, except that under ix, Elisha Maynard should be Elihu.

Potter, 23 Apr., 1833. If Salome were the last ch. she was probably not more than sixteen years old in 1833.

SIXTH GENERATION

REVIEW

Let it not be forgotten that the sixth generation as shown in "The History of the Brigham Family" is larger than all in the Morse Genealogy, and the seventh generation is nearly as large as the sixth.

The Forbes family of Westboro was united with the Brig-hams through the marriage of Sarah, daughter of Moses<sup>5</sup> Brigham of Westboro, to Jonathan Forbes. The young couple acquired the Moses Brigham house on West Main street, a description of which, taken from the "Hundredth Town" is given on page 129 of the H. B. F. There they raised a family of nine children, who in their turn contributed several large families to the community. One of Sarah's great-grandchildren is Judge William T. Forbes of Worcester, who married Miss Harriette Merrifield, No. 414, v, a daughter of a Brigham woman of Grafton.

Moses, Jr., a brother of Sarah, graduating in the same class with Elijah, afterward the judge, tried business without success in Concord, Vt., and Hanover, N. H., and then went to Canada, where he went into land speculation.

Two other members of the family of Moses<sup>5</sup> remained in Westboro, Phineas and Mehitabel, but Ebenezer was early in Townshend, Vt., where his son, John Hazeltine, and grandson, Bela Brewster, were prominent. Joseph was graduated from Harvard and Dartmouth Colleges, was a lawyer in Marlboro, and after the War of 1812 went to Canada, and at his death was buried by the side of his brother Moses in Delaware, near London. Sally Clarinda, his third daughter, married John Cotting of Marlboro, the landlord of Cotting tavern.

The old sleighing parties in the farm-wagon body on runners, drawn by two or more horses, were popular amusements in a region where snow lingered for three months or more in the year. Seated on straw in the bottom of the wagon, young men and women made the "welkin ring" with the songs of the olden time. Always they went to a tavern, such as were common along the traveled highways. The John Cotting tavern, presided over by a housewife born a Brigham, was in the highest repute. The dinners and suppers prepared by this skillful lady, Aunt Sally, as she was called, were known far and wide. "Flip" was a beverage much called for. It was cream beer, served in large mugs, into which the landlord ran an iron rod about two feet long with a ball at the end the size of a walnut, which was heated red hot. This made the beer foam and was a very acceptable drink after a cold ride. Then came the fiddler's opportunity, who played "Money Musk," "Turkey in the Straw," and many other popular dance tunes, which Henry Ford is now seeking to reinstate in the good graces of dancers to-day. The Longfellow Wayside Inn, Sudbury, now owned by him, was a favorite rendezvous for sleighing parties from Marlboro, and was then known as the "Red Horse Tavern."

The old Williams Tavern, now somewhat fallen from its once high estate, comes into the story of the sixth generation. Elizabeth<sup>6</sup> Brigham, daughter of Capt. Daniel, No. 162, married Abraham Gates, and for a few years was the hostess of the tavern which boasted of having entertained President George Washington and the Duke de la Rochefoucauld. This site, on the "Post Road" from Boston to Worcester, has been occupied by a tavern for 250 years. Harriet Brigham, a sister of Mrs. Gates, was the next hostess, as the wife of Jabez Witherbee, and they had a family of nine children. In those days Williams Tavern ranked among the very best of public houses in Massachusetts. The old parlor table, from which President Washington dined at the tavern, is preserved, and the Masonic bowl, pitcher and mug used there. When the stage driver reached Felton Hill, on the opposite side of Williams Pond, he blew his horn, and this tooting gave the inn-keeper notice of the approach of passengers and their number. A descendant of Mrs. Harriet Witherbee is Mrs. Ella Frances (Witherbee), wife of Arthur W. Furlong of Somerville, Mass.

Col. Ephraim<sup>6</sup>, of Marlboro, left a large family of sixteen children, all of whom reached adult age, and several had large families. One of his sons was a clergyman, said to have been "the father of Methodism in Worcester and Fitchburg." A descendant, in the ninth generation, Nathaniel Maynard Brigham, was a noted tenor singer, first in the Glee Club of Harvard College from which he was graduated, and later in all parts of the country. He had a voice of rare beauty.

One hundred and ten or fifteen years ago, cotillion dances were held in Marlboro every Thursday night for years. Cotting's Hall was the scene of much pleasure in those days, and the master of ceremonies was Caleb<sup>6</sup> Brigham, No. 293. His wife, Martha, was a daughter of William Brigham, No. 74. Caleb was a portly man, with a fine presence, a clear resonant voice and perfect manners. His standing in the community was unquestioned. Nearly all of Marlboro of his day (1778-1842) who learned to dance were pupils of Mr. Brigham, and they learned at the same time courtesy and refinement, from the celebrated violin player and dancing master.

Sophia Rice was the daughter of Lucy Brigham and Eli Rice. Lucy<sup>5</sup>, No. 167, the daughter of Winslow<sup>4</sup> Brigham, was the first woman school teacher employed by the town of Marlboro. Sophia<sup>6</sup>, who married Dennis Witherbee, was full of vivacity at the age of 80, when she danced a minuet, to the accompaniment of an ancient spinnet, with her niece. This sprightly lady, speaking of the great number of Brighams in Marlboro, said: "My mother was a Brigham, two of my brothers married Brighams; father's only sister married a Brigham; my husband's mother was a Brigham; two of her sisters married Brighams; three of her sons married Brighams, but my name was Rice." An unprejudiced listener would certainly have concluded it was marvelous that anyone in Marlboro escaped being a Brigham.

Ithamar Brigham, Jr., No. 208, settled on land in the west part of Marlboro purchased of his father-in-law Solomon Barnes, whose daughter Catharine he married. Ithamar built a substantial house near the present Maplewood Cemetery, which in later years was laid out on part of this farm. Their son Levi was a physician and Joseph (his son) was a Boston merchant. But Moses, the third son, was the favorite of his childless uncle Silas and his wife Persis (Stowe). Having no children to bring up, many precious possessions were acquired in one way or another, and Aunt Persis had no equal with her needle. Therefore, Moses inherited a store of treasures, which he as well as his wife, Susan (Fosgate), fully appreciated. Among the heirlooms was the grandfather clock, pewter plates, a lovely set of pink cups, and a wonderful pewter tankard which had been used at the communion table in the old church in Southboro; in this Silas used to keep the honey from his bees; then there was the large pink dish which held the wedding cake of Moses and Susan; pillow cases spun from flax Aunt Persis raised, and antiques of value. In this part of the town there were four couples, Moses and Susan Brigham, Solomon, Jr. and Sarah (Howe) Barnes, Israel Howe and wife, and John Cotting and his wife, Sallie Brigham, all intimate friends, who frequently met at each other's homes, and their card parties were enjoyable affairs. During the evening the big flip glass of home-made toddy was passed around for each to sip, and the ceremony was repeated when the time for departure came.

Two men of Westboro were of the type who accomplished much practical business in their lifetime, Pierpont and Dexter Brigham, younger sons of Capt. Edmund's large family, one settling on the farm of Capt. Edmund, and Dexter becoming an inn-keeper and a trader, with a large capacity for affairs.

Lincoln Brigham, No. 200, of Southboro and Cambridge, had an exceptional family of children, all leading persons in their several circles of life. Elijah Dana had large interests in Boston, both military and civic. His merchant brothers, Joseph Lincoln and Erastus Forbes, appear in the next generation, as does his distinguished brother, the celebrated jurist, Judge Lincoln Flagg Brigham.

Three of the sons of Lieut. Artemas of Northboro remained in that vicinity, Gardner, Henry and Lovell, while John traveled, first to New York State and then West, where his son, John Swarrow Brigham, left a large and interesting family of children. Edward D. is now as far as the State of Washington, and others scattered from Chicago onward to the Pacific. Moses, settling in Binghamton, N. Y., has descendants in Oregon, as well as in Binghamton.

John, James and Walter Brigham, of the John<sup>5</sup> and Joel<sup>4</sup> line, placed their mark upon Dunkirk and Fredonia, N. Y., and produced business men of a high grade.

About 1836, Joel<sup>6</sup> Brigham, another descendant of Joel<sup>4</sup>, took his way to Lodi, Ohio, and a large number of families from him are settled in that State, while other descendants have gone farther on into this wonderful western world.

We must speak of Dr. Samuel Brigham, born of that John<sup>5</sup> family, who went to Phillipston. The doctor was not only a good physician, but a fine violinist, and his descendants, in some cases, have inherited his musical gifts. They are to be found in Ohio, Michigan and Iowa.

Among those who went to the territory of Michigan in the earlier days of western emigration was Ebenezer<sup>8</sup> Brigham, out of the David<sup>3</sup> line, No. 97, x. His home is now in Dane County, Wis. One of the original proprietors of the city of Madison, Wis., he became a large land-holder. The testimonial of the Dane County Bar at the time of his death is given on page 150, H. B. F.

He invited his nephew, Elijah A., son of Edmund Trowbridge Brigham, No. 235, to visit him in Wisconsin, which he did. They attended a meeting of the Sox and Foxes, an Indian tribe. They sat in a circle, the old chief taking the first puff on the Pipe of Peace; then passed it round the circle. They trusted and treated Ebenezer Brigham in all confidence. Although his uncle much desired him to settle there Elijah Brigham did not think that wild sort of life would suit him and returned to Philadelphia.

A very prominent man in Quincy, Mass., was Josiah Brigham, from the Northboro home of Winslow and Alice (Cushing) Brigham, whose large family of children and descendants were Northboro residents until the present time, when several have died. Josiah seems to have been connected with banks, institutions and organizations in his adopted town, and he was deeply interested in the Militia.

Four of the sons of Jonas of the last generation, had large families and though the children were born in North Brookfield, they went to Bakersfield, Vt. We have no record, however, of Michael, outside of Brookfield. Dr. Luther also seems to have preferred Massachusetts. The youngest son, Cheney, was the father of Robert and Elizabeth Brigham of hospital fame.

From the Sudbury family of Elijah<sup>5</sup> came Danforth Phipps Brigham, a city official in Lowell, Mass., and a representative to the Legislature. He had a number of superior daughters, some of whom were faithful friends of the Brigham Family Association, as was his son, Charles W.

Josiah Fay Brigham, son of Uriah, of Bakersfield, Vt., had to assume the care of the family affairs at an early age because of the death of his father. He was a leading man in his town, having a large interest in public affairs. He was often chosen selectman and three times went to the Legislature. He took a great interest in Brigham Academy, the money for its foundation having come from his brother, Peter Bent.

In Chautauqua County lived Mrs. Elijah Risley, Abigail Brigham, No. 226, daughter of one of the sons of Joel<sup>4</sup> who emigrated with all his family to New York State, and sister of John, James and Walter just mentioned. In this generation are several families in and around Fredonia and Dunkirk, whose numbers ran from four to fourteen children. Abigail Risley's family were seven in number, and she and her husband celebrated their golden wedding and also their 59th anniversary together. She lived into her 87th year, but Gen. Risley died in his 83d year. Representatives of these Fredonia and Dunkirk families are to be found in all of our following generations, men of large activities.

The Fitzwilliam family of Levi<sup>5</sup>, grandson of David<sup>3</sup>, runs from Nos. 239 to 246 inclusive in the H. B. F., and in Wauwatosa, Wis., will be found numbers of them, while the State of New Hampshire is dotted with families of this branch.

Dr. Luther Brigham, No. 256, of the Brookfield family of Jonas<sup>5</sup>, later of Bakersfield, practised in western Massachusetts. He was liberally educated, and because of his talents as a speaker was in demand as a lecturer.

A man of amazing energy, which he devoted to the good of town and church in Westboro, was Otis Brigham, of the David<sup>3</sup> line. He was much interested in the genealogy of the Brighams and at one time had most of the records Morse afterward gathered. His manuscripts were scattered, and were not available to Morse. He used annually to have fireside gatherings in Westboro of the Brighams within reach.

The landlord of the American House in Boston for many years was Abraham Munroe Brigham, whose wife was Mindwell Brigham of Northboro. He was a son of the noted surgeon, Dr. Daniel Brigham. He lived to be 86 years old, and was succeeded by his niece's husband, Lewis Rice, who was followed by his son, Col. Henry Brigham<sup>8</sup> Rice, whose brother was Major Lewis F. Rice, one of the directors of the B. F. A. for a number of years.

The Rev. David Brigham, No. 266, also in David's line, was born in Westboro. His long career in the ministry covered sixty-two years. He left descendants who are living in Fall River and Brockton, occupying responsible places in the business world of to-day.

Elmer Brigham of Westboro, of the same line of David, was one of the ablest citizens of that place. He had a grandson, Elmer P. Howe, late of Boston, who was a distinguished lawyer.

Dr. Thomas S. was a son of Gov. Paul Brigham, and is shown, with his large family, under No. 310. The known details of his life are few, but he was celebrated in his profession. A son of his third daughter, Henry Thomas, had an interesting career as an early pioneer in the West, undergoing many hardships. His story and that of his descendants is given in this volume under No. 310. The Orr's Island branch comes from Dr. Thomas, through his son, James Dana, and has not been published before.

Under No. 301, the Rev. Benjamin Baxter Brigham is named, his father having been Gershom of Fayston, Vt. He emigrated to Michigan, and little was known of his children. In Oklahoma the line of his eldest son has been found and is shown in this volume.

The Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, in its excellent location on Huntington Avenue, Boston, is a fine monument to the thought of the man from Bakersfield, Vt., Peter Bent Brigham, who acquired the fortune with which it is endowed. The corps of physicians who work there are unsurpassed.

Among others from Bakersfield, Vt., there came to Boston in his early youth, Henry Randolph Brigham, whose father was Benjamin Gott, and whose uncle was Peter Bent Brigham. The Boston Bar admitted him at the age of twenty-one and before his death he was a member of a law firm with a large practice. Intellectually keen and with high ideals, he made his mark even in his short life of 36 years. His son, of Cambridge and Boston, was one of the civilians who did remarkable work during the World War. See this volume, No. 344.

One of the oldest shoe manufacturing concerns in this country, doing business now, was founded by Capt. Francis Brigham in Feltonville, now Hudson, Mass. His sons are gone.

It is sometimes a sorrowful thing to find oneself the survivor of a generation as did Charles Brigham, of Hudson, No. 360. One of the busiest and most public-spirited men of his day, when the leisure of old age came he missed greatly the comrades who had borne the heat and burden of the day with him. As he once said, "When I call them, none answer."

The Rev. John Clark Brigham, D.D., No. 363, of the New Marlboro branch, traveled extensively in South America in the interests of the American Board of Foreign Missions. His executive abilities found scope in the work of the corresponding secretary of the American Bible Society, and his influence brought about the erection of the building for that society in New York. He was a brother of a noted alienist, Dr. Amariah Brigham, No. 365, of Utica, N. Y., who came to the rescue of the insane when "there was no eye to pity and no arm to save." It is said of him: "He was the pioneer in all modern methods for caring for the insane." He was succeeded by his nephew, Dr. Dwight Burrell, No. 366, viii, who died in 1910.

Brownington, Vt., made a home for Capt. Silas<sup>5</sup> Brigham, of the Princeton line, and in that place grew to manhood and womanhood a family of nine children. Three sons came to Boston, Edmund Sanford, who was connected with the State House; Albert Smith, a business man, and Charles, No. 381, who went into the Boston post-office in 1837, and for sixty years was a noted employee of that government institution. Another brother, John Morey, kept the "Brigham Hotel" in Derby Center, Vt.

Another of the Princeton family, Micajah R., No. 384, son of Aaron<sup>5</sup>, emigrated to Michigan, and finally lived in Toledo, Ohio, where his children have resided for many years. William Elbridge, however, has lately removed to Connecticut for business reasons, and is one of the officers of the Brigham Family Association. Micajah's son Oshea S., M. D. is a physician in Toledo.

One of the merchants of Marlboro was William Pitt Brigham, No. 397, with a long line of descendants. In the time of the gold fever he went to California, and crossed the Isthmus twice, before any railroad was constructed.

In 1813 a young man of Sudbury, John Brigham, No. 328, went to Georgia, where he secured a large plantation and also engaged in business. Twenty-seven years later he returned to New England and went into the lumber business in Watertown, in which he was joined by his brother William, the father of Charles the architect. Energy and business ability like that of his ancestor, John<sup>2</sup>, was a prominent trait with this John. He founded a Southern line, that of William<sup>7</sup>, No. 620, in Girard, Ga., whose seven sons and three daughters have given a large number of Brighams to that State whose records are interesting. See this volume, 791-796 inclusive.

Rebecca<sup>6</sup> Brigham, No. 332, daughter of Joseph of Sudbury, whose wife was that fine woman, Rebecca Haynes out of one of the old Sudbury families, married Lawrence Thompson, a planter of Alabama. Her daughter, Rebecca Bayless, wife of William W., lives in Florence, Ala., and has descendants in Louisville, Ky., and Atlanta, Ga., thus forming another Southern branch.

Charles<sup>6</sup> Brigham, out of Ashbel Samuel's family, went from the farm on Brigham street in Marlboro, to Philadelphia, where he had a family of ten children, see No. 356, thus forming another line south, not west of New England.

One of the Grafton Brigham women, Miss Sarah Prentice Brigham, No. 409, iv, was connected with Dr. Edward Everett Hale's "Lend-a-Hand Society," and for years gave her services in the cause of the distribution of reading matter throughout the South, a much needed work. The good she did has been written in higher annals than ours.

One who passed his 95th birthday a little more than a month before his death, was Nicholas H. Brigham of Grafton, No. 411. He was a business man in a large way, but retired about fourteen years before his decease. A fine type of the race, he was a significant figure in all circles in which he moved.

An eminent lawyer in Boston, one of the brothers of the last named Brigham, was William, No. 410. Very active as a legislator, a founder of the Republican party, a reviewer in leading magazines, and speaker before societies, he drew too largely on his forces, and succumbed at an early age. His eldest son, William Tufts, was a noted scientist with a residence in Honolulu. He was a voluminous writer on the subjects to which he devoted himself, and for many years he had charge of the Bishop Museum of Ethnology. His death, at the age of 85, occurred in January, 1926. Edward Brigham lives on Brigham Hill in Grafton. The second son, Charles Brooks Brigham, M.D., an eminent surgeon, and Arthur Austin Brigham, a business man with large interests are both deceased.

He discovered the error which had been made by Mr. W. I. T. # SEVENTH GENERATION

REVIEW

The number of the family who have served the public weal in some capacity increases as we come down to the larger and later generations. Though Brighams in many parts of the country have been a blessing to their fellow-men, none feels more keenly than the genealogist how much is hidden that cannot be revealed, partly through lack of information by the compilers, space to chronicle the deeds, or the modesty of those interested. Among so much of excellence, choice becomes a difficult matter, but lack of space requires that we make selections.

The figure that looms largest out of the past in this period is that of Chief Justice Lincoln Flagg Brigham, of the line of the two Nathans, and Elijah<sup>5</sup>. A glance at the countenance of Judge Brigham as shown in the engraving in "The History of the Brigham Family" is sufficient to place him in the minds of all as a strong character of great ability and a leader of men.

An important character in this division of the family is a woman descendant of Captain Edmund Brigham of Westboro, who played a memorable part in the development of education in New York and New England. Influenced in her youth by Mary Lyon, that wonderful leader in the education of girls in the second, third and fourth decades of the 19th century, Mary Ann Brigham, No. 441 in the H. B. F., found her work in conducting a post-graduate course in connection with the Brooklyn, N. Y., Heights Seminary. The incalculable amount of good that women of the type of Mary Lyon and Mary Brigham have brought to those who came within the spheres of their influence is constantly being shown in work which the busy world is often too much engaged to note. Her alma mater, Mt. Holyoke Seminary, becoming a college, gave its highest reward to Mary Brigham by electing her as its first president. It can only be conjectured from her previous career what her influence would have been on the group of young women thus to be entrusted to her care. But the opportunity never came. On the 29th of June, 1889, she was killed in a railway accident. Those who knew her best realized the loss the feminine world met that day.

Arranging the story of the Brighams now more closely in sequence, we find a Bela Brewster Brigham, who was a colonel in the British army in the War of 1812, having followed his father Moses<sup>6</sup> to Canada, living in Bath, N. Y., in the decade of his seventies. He lived to be eighty-six years old, and is described as having great vigor.

A grandson of Capt. Edmund, born in his house in Westboro, John of Whitingham, Vt., No. 423, was made for the times in which he lived, for outdoors and all its pursuits as a pioneer in southern Vermont, and enjoyed his hard life until eighty years of age. In addition to the sketch in the H. B. F., it is to be noted that he had a fine sugar maple orchard, one of the best in his vicinity. His doors were open to all who would visit him, and their number was legion. Few hotels then entertained more guests than he. He had the distinction of marrying four times, thus always having someone to preside over his well-filled and well-surrounded table.

To get work, Curtis Brigham, No. 434, also of that fruitful line of Captain Edmund, walked 90 miles to Boston when 19 years of age, went to sea, and was captured in the War of 1812. Twenty-one years later he went West, and still keeping his ability as a pedestrian, walked 125 miles to reach a certain point. Such men did not need parlor cars and Pullmans. To supply religious teaching where he lived, he opened Sunday-schools, and on occasion, when they lacked a clergyman, did not hesitate to preach. In the case of John in the East and Curtis in the West, both having the same vigorous ancestry, hard work was their meat and drink.

Some of the Brighams were successful business men in this generation, Benjamin Fay, Charles Edmund of Boston, brother of President-elect Mary Brigham, Col. Sidney, William Ashbel, Joseph Lincoln and Erastus Forbes, old time merchants all of them, whose numbers in the H. B. F. run from 435 to 472. These are of the East. In the North there was Erastus Oakley of Bakersfield, Vt., No. 533, out of the line of David<sup>3</sup> and the Jonases, a man of enterprise, which resulted in large things for his time; among other achievements, he founded the town of Brigham, Quebec. Moses B. and Jewett B. of Boston, his brothers, were men of sterling worth; that line also produced Waldo, of Bakersfield, a lawyer and leading spirit in railroad development. There seemed to be something in the air of Bakersfield which produced this and other families in which boldness and energy combined to bring forth large movements. Coming back to the East again, we find Calvin, John Mason and Henry Harding of Boylston and Worcester, Nos. 515-517, men devoted to business and town affairs; Lemuel H., a manufacturer of Chicopee and Ludlow; Addington Munroe, a Civil War veteran, living to a great age, a life filled with much work and often heavy toil on the old Samuel<sup>3</sup> place in Marlboro; but he was never too busy to stop to consider others' lives in a helpful way; Joshua Bates, a philosophical instrument maker; David Sewall of Fall River, a merchant; George Otis, the banker of Westboro; Cyrus, a milk contractor, one of the founders of the Apollo Club in Boston; these men appearing under Nos. 537-550, H. B. F.; Levi Henry, a New York merchant; Charles Corriden, a manufacturer of Worcester and William Augustus of Boston, a statistician of note and one who accomplished work in places of responsibility; these to be found under numbers 537 to 592 of the H. B. F.; then under No. 630, William Eustis was a pioneer in the ice business in Boston.

Dr. Adolphus, No. 485, of Shrewsbury, descended from Capt. Nathan through his son Thomas and grandson Ithamar, though only a practising physician in a country town, left his mark upon the minds and hearts of those whose best good he served so faithfully, many years. To have earned the title he bore of "The Good Physician," not only in Shrewsbury but for miles around that town, he must have carried about with him something of the spirit of the one who first received that distinction two thousand years ago, in country villages and towns.

Pomfret, Dunkirk and Fredonia are the places most closely connected with the seventh generation of the descendants of Joel<sup>4</sup>, who went out into New York State. These men, Fidelio W., Wesley H., and Levi, Nos. 499-501, proved to be keen and clever business men. The three named went to California in the middle of the 19th century. They came back, however, and entered energetically into railroad contracts, raised cotton in the South, opened coal mines, and when there was nothing else to do, were farmers and seedsmen. A younger brother was the Rev. George French Brigham, whose life included both business and the ministry.

Joel of Wauseon, O., No. 507, was a type of the best sort of pioneers, who started their homes in cabins of logs, ill-lighted and poorly heated according to modern standards. While Joel was farming, running a sawmill, carrying on a flouring mill and building up a mercantile business, his wife, Betsey (Lyon) Brigham, was bearing ten children and raising eight of them.

We must note, in passing, Silvester Brigham, No. 519, out of the David<sup>3</sup> line, a man of pluck and strength or he could not have walked from Illinois to New Hampshire and back again, served in the Black Hawk war, and laid out the town of Dover, Ill., to which his father and brother Joseph removed. He had eight children, one of whom was the clergyman, the late Rev. Joseph Webb Brigham, for many years the pastor of a Baptist church in Dorchester.

Out of Bakersfield came a young man to Boston to seek his fortune. He found it. On Parker Hill in Boston stands the Robert B. Brigham Hospital for Incurables, the result of his labors and good judgment for financial investments. To his sister, Elizabeth F. Brigham, Robert B. owed much; she was his balance wheel. Together they planned this hospital for those deemed incurably ill and without resources to pay for long and expensive illness.

Facing page 412 of "The History of the Brigham Family," one may see a face which shows insight and alertness in a high degree. He came from David<sup>3</sup>, Asa<sup>4</sup>, Stephen<sup>5</sup>, and Sullivan<sup>6</sup>, and to all the good qualities which tradition says they possessed he added some of his own. He took great interest in public reforms, such as the anti-slavery movement; became both a carpenter and contractor, taught school, was a railroad constructor, went into the real estate business; taught singing school and played on the bass viol and flute for pastime; and for further amusement, became Justice of the Peace, township clerk and finally Mayor of Toledo. If Dr. John was called "ubiquitous" in the second generation, what would you say of Mavor of the seventh? In the eighth generation will be found interesting records of his family, which includes the late Charles O. Brigham, B. F. A. president.

From this same Asa and Stephen, through the latter's son John, another family of men comes into view. These are of Ogden, N. Y.; Orville P., whose home was in Spencerport; and of his six children, but one is left, Elbert W., of Brockport, who is upholding the high standards of the family; John D., No. 564, who remained in Ogden and left a large family; Alonzo, who went to Lafayette, Ind.; Milton, No. 566, of Spencerport, whose line is represented by Henry Martyn Brigham, a lawyer of Brooklyn, N. Y., No. 771; and Charles of the same town, all men of substantial worth, from whom their communities received that which money could not buy, good counsel and fine examples of excellent living.

We come to the Brighams of Watertown and Girard, Ga., descendants of Dr. John<sup>2</sup>. Of late years William Theodore Brigham, who was a corporation president in Baltimore, lived on Shelter Island, N. Y., where his brother Charles, the well-known architect of Watertown and Boston, joined him. William T. died in 1919 and Charles in 1925. William's sons are carrying out the traditions of energy and resourcefulness inherent in their line, in Shelter Island. William of Girard left seven sons who have present-day descendants in that part of the South, a most prolific branch. See Nos. 791-796.

In this section of our family are several clergymen. Among them are two sons of Willard of Marlboro, the Rev. Levi and the Rev. Willard, Nos. 582 and 584, the latter the father of Helen and Mary Brigham of Cambridge. Elisha and Sophronia of Fayston, Vt., had two ministers in their group of children, the Rev. Leander and the Rev. Albert, Nos. 601 and 602, and another son was Dr. Gershom Nelson, father of Willard I. T. Brigham.

We would call attention to the families of Timothy and Phineas of Pennsylvania and New York State, running from Nos. 638 to 646. Also the son of Salmon, Orlando L. and his family under 647, all appearing in the first volume and a part in this one.

In the line of shoe manufacturing the descendants of Francis of Hudson, Rufus H. and Waldo B., Nos. 649-650, continued his work, their firm being one of the oldest in New England.

A member of Congress in 1878-1880, Lewis Alexander Brigham, No. 654, in the Samuel<sup>2</sup>, Jedediah<sup>3</sup> and Francis<sup>4</sup> line, was a lawyer in Jersey City, N. J., and an educator. The eighth and ninth generations in New Jersey are men of standing and efficiency.

Through Winslow of the fourth and Capt. Daniel of the fifth and Winslow of the sixth generation, came Eugene Winslow, who settled in Manchester, N. H., where he lived as a merchant for long years until in his 80th year. His near relatives, Dennison, son of Capt. Daniel, who lived on the tannery site of Samuel<sup>2</sup>, raised a family of seven children, and John Winslow, son of Col. Aaron, kept to farming in Marlboro, and benefited his town by going into the ice business. His son, a professor, teaches agriculture. Humphrey, of the Jedediah family through Ashley<sup>6</sup>, came into his inheritance as a shoe manufacturer in Hudson.

The daughters of William Pitt Brigham married and lived in Marlboro and their children hold responsible positions. Of the surviving sons, one went to California, and the other remained in Marlboro; the descendants of the first are divided between the Pacific coast and the East. A granddaughter of Alfred A. was, until her marriage, a prominent newspaper woman in Marlboro.

Col. Henry Hobart Brigham, out of the Asa<sup>4</sup> and Jotham branch, secretary of the Anti-Slavery Society in Plymouth Co., Mass., was also a manufacturer of tacks and nails in Whitman. His line continues in the next generation under another family name.

Charles Hastings, William Eustace, Nancy Sophia, and other sisters, and Major Henry O. Brigham, children of Hastings, also of the Asa-Jotham line, have given Marlboro and other towns well-placed citizens.

EIGHTH GENERATION

REVIEW

Charles Brewster Brigham, an early settler of Chicago, dealt there in real estate. Before the fire he was president of the Union Dispatch Company. His eldest son, Gustavus Brewster, who died this year, was talented in music as was his father before him. His other sons, Charles F. and Samuel F., reside respectively in Indianapolis and Chicago.

An early musician of Marlboro, whose life extended over 75 years of the 19th century, was Cyrus Brigham, No. 688. He was chorister for many years in churches of his town, and played the violin, and so inspired his large family with a love of music that nearly all contributed to the enjoyment of hundreds in their day. He might rightly be called the father of the Brigham Orchestra, which is specifically dealt with in the biography of his son, William H.

The eldest son of John of Whitingham, Vt., Martyn Freeman Brigham, remembered well that year of no summer, 1816, and at seven years of age conceived a distaste for rye in any form because that was their only breadstuff, and possibly because he had to tend the hoe-cake in front of the fireplace. He was the only son for fifteen years, and his laborious life began early. No easy road was his to follow through the years that lasted until two days before his 88th birthday. In the midst of an illness in his late seventies, he said, however, "I would like to go back and live it all over again." For good reasons he was rich in the love of friends and neighbors. Nearly thirty years have passed since he took his "journey to the Infinite," yet in some homes he is still a gracious influence.

For fifty years George Ball Brigham, No. 703, out of the Captain Edmund branch of Westboro, was the leading manufacturer of footwear in that town, where was the factory, and where he had a family of eleven children, of whom eight reached adult age. His sons, John and the late Horace, were his partners and successors.

A gentleman at heart and in appearance, the late Dexter H. Brigham, No. 706, of Westboro and Springfield, was cultured and traveled. He visited the town of Brigham, Cumberland County, England, and always believed that there was the original home of our family. This has now been disproved. The business he founded in Springfield is still in existence.

Algernon Sidney Brigham, No. 712, of Marlboro, was a shoe manufacturer, in which business he spent a long life, dying at the age of 84. He came from Winslow<sup>1</sup> on his mother's side, and from Samuel<sup>2</sup>, through his father, and it would seem to have been impossible for him to engage in any other business than that connected with leather, with the blood of two such pioneers in his veins.

Loriman Stevens Brigham, No. 713, a brother of Algernon, however, broke away from the traditional family pursuit, and was an old time merchant in Marlboro, of the firm of Brigham & Eager, Jewelers. He held many offices of trust and importance, and was chairman of the committee for the first B. F. A. meeting in Marlboro in 1894, when more than 500 representatives of the family met in the 259th year of the arrival of Thomas the Emigrant in 1635, in Boston and Cambridge.

Dr. John Wesley, No. 717, son of the Rev. Elijah Brigham, and out of the branch of the Nathans and Col. Ephraim, went West and practised medicine in Wisconsin and Iowa, but was drawn back to his native Massachusetts. He had a family of four sons who became leading business men in Sutton, and he is well represented by descendants. (See this vol. and the H. B. F.)

The Rev. Charles Henry Brigham, from the Southboro Nathan, was a professor and a scholar, holding important positions in his church organization, besides traveling extensively in the East and Europe. He died young, unmarried.

Dr. Franklin Brigham, No. 739, son of Dr. Adolphus of Shrewsbury, followed in the footsteps of his father and became the much loved physician of Shrewsbury and surrounding towns. His brother, Frederick A., chose a different line and went to Topeka, Kans., and founded Oakland, where he became the leading citizen, serving the city as mayor for fifteen years. Both men were intellectually superior and possessed splendid physiques. Dr. Brigham had spiritual insight, as shown by verses published in the H. B. F.

In Northboro, Boylston and Berlin lived the six sons and some of the daughters of Joel, No. 490, who married Nancy Brigham, daughter of Fortunatus. The present generation will be found in both volumes under Nos. 742-745, inclusive, and No. 819. In all generations, they have been people who were a great credit to the name.

In Chicago, a son of the Rev. George French Brigham, the late Edmund Douglass, No. 748, was connected for many years with the Chicago and Northwestern Railway, as General Freight Agent and Assistant Freight Traffic Manager. Large executive abilities were his, and the strain that shows itself in so many of the descendants of Joel<sup>4</sup> appears in Mr. Brigham and his brothers, one of whom, the late George F., Jr., was many years in St. Louis. Later he went to Tulsa, Okla., with the North American Car Company. See Nos. 748 and 749 in this volume, for more extended biography.

The Joel<sup>4</sup> branch furnished another line of forceful men, one of whom is the late Col. Joseph Henry, son of Winfield Scott Brigham, and nephew of Joel of Wauseon. He, too, had energy to burn, and his biography in the H. B. F., No. 751, is indicative of the large place he held among the people of Delta, O., his home town, and in the capital of the nation. In scanning the stories of these able men, one feels regret that they seldom last over into old age in our day. Walter Scott and Haven Theodore Brigham, sons of Joel of Wauseon, had their part in the stirring time of the early sixties, being in the army of the Civil War. The elder worked for the Rural Free Delivery in his county, a great blessing. Mr. Haven T. Brigham has recently died, after he had passed a successful business life, and was taking the leisure which had come to him in Florida in the winters. Each brother left a son and daughter.

William Oakley Brigham, No. 759, of Bakersfield, Vt., of the line of Jonas<sup>4</sup> and Jonas<sup>5</sup>, was a Civil War veteran and held many offices in his town; two of his sons are in professions, one as a physician and the other as a dentist.

The Rev. Charles A. G. Brigham, a Gershom<sup>3</sup>-Joseph<sup>4</sup> descendant, was a graduate of Wesleyan University, and lived in Enfield, Conn. The Rev. Leonard Warren Brigham, of the Benjamin<sup>4</sup>-Gershom<sup>5</sup> line, is a Vermonter, and a Universalist preacher. He has a son and a grandson in the ministry in the same church. He wrote the genealogist in the early days when the first volume was delayed, "I am afraid all our posterity will have arrived before the book is published," which proved not to be true. The Rev. Sidney S., a Vermonter, came of the Elnathan<sup>3</sup> branch, the venturesome son of the family of Thomas<sup>2</sup> who went to Connecticut, and of Gov. Paul of Vermont. He left a few descendants in Vermont, and a surviving brother, Sanford J., of St. Albans, whose children reside there, one being at present a Member of Congress.

Charles Oliver Brigham, son of Mavor of Toledo, O., endeared himself to all Brighams fortunate enough to know him in the days of his presidency of the B. F. A. His biography, under No. 768 H. B. F., reveals the wide extent of his activities in life, from which his sudden death removed him.

Willard I. T. Brigham, No. 784, the son of Dr. Gershom N., had a descent not only from Thomas<sup>2</sup> but also from John<sup>2</sup>, and as in so many cases where John enters into a man's line, there will be found more than common energy and achievement. In his chosen line of genealogy, Willard did the work of two men in a short time. He prepared by far the major part of "The History of the Brigham Family," and made possible a connected story of the Brighams descended from Thomas of Yorkshire, England. His struggle with ill-health in the effort to complete his task was in the nature of a tragedy. See H. B. F.

In Girard, Ga., the burning of his home caused the death of Dr. John Christopher Brigham, No. 791, a physician and plantation farmer. To rescue important papers, he was burned to death in the house where he had gone to save them. A large family of his brothers, sons of William<sup>7</sup>, have given to Georgia a representative group of the family, through John C., William H., Thaddeus R., Clarence R., Charles, Walter B., and Harry W., all except William now deceased, several of whom left large families. Interesting records will be found under Nos. 620 and 791-796. These are of the John<sup>2</sup> line.

Dr. Reader Smith Brigham, of the George<sup>4</sup> line, had experience early as a surgeon in the Navy and later practised in a number of western towns; one of his sons is a Lieut-Col. in the U. S. Army.

We have already spoken of Dr. Johnson Brigham, the B. F. A. president, now taking, at this writing, a journey around the world. Physically a man not more than sixty-five, in spite of the fact that his years number more on this planet, his courage and enthusiasm are inspiring. Reference to his biography in this volume will give the salient points of his later career. All his friends are wishing him bon voyage.

Dr. Albert Perry Brigham has a very interesting sketch in this volume of the events of his scholarly life in the last twenty years. When he retired from the work of active teaching in Colgate University in 1925, the Dean of the College said in part: "He has left his mark upon this college for a generation; as a preacher he has combined clearness of vision with lucidity of utterance; as a scientist he has gained an international reputation; as a writer he has added to the vivid presentation of fact the charm of literary style."

Gen. William H. Brigham came down from Samuel<sup>2</sup> through Francis, the shoe manufacturer of Hudson, and was associated in business with his father Rufus H. and his uncles Wilbur F. and Waldo B. At the time of his death he was president of the company, then known as the F. Brigham & Gregory Company. Aside from business, he was pre-eminent in the affairs of his community and State, being in the Legislature, on the Governor's Council and giving his valuable services on directorates and in the militia.

The son of Charles Hastings<sup>7</sup> and grandson of Hastings<sup>6</sup>, the late Eugene O. Brigham, filled a large place in Marlboro's social and business world, and was foremost in civic movements. He had many friends in the family outside Marlboro, for he was long a director in the B. F. A. William Eustace, brother of Charles H., had an only son, Eustace Hastings, who died lately, leaving two daughters. The daughters of Hastings have additional records in this volume, and the story of the male line has been augmented by numerous families not before published.

688 CYRUS<sup>s</sup> BRIGHAM of Marlboro (1820-1895) was chorister many years in the churches, played the violin, and is rightfully called the "father" of the well-known Brigham's Orchestra of Marlboro. His wife was Cynthia M. (Bemis) (1824-1892). Ch. additions and corrections:

A singer and member of the Marlboro First Congregational Church choir; she also sang at the Peace Jubilee in Boston, under P. S. Gilmore, and was a member of the Theodore Thomas Oratorio Society of Cincinnati, being one of his celebrated quartette.
- vi Cyrus Waldo<sup>9</sup> Brigham, d. 26 Feb., 1922, ae. 71 yrs., 2 mos. A noted ball player, he belonged to the Fairmount Baseball Club during its existence. He became captain of the Hook and Ladder Co. and later Chief Engineer of the Marlboro Fire Dept. He was a charter member of the original Brigham's Orchestra. His wife is Ellen N. (Wineh). - vii William Henry Brigham, d. s. p. 1 Apr., 1923, ae. 70 yrs., 3 mos., 20 days, leaving a widow, Margaret (Cosgrove). He was the leader and founder of "Brigham's Orchestra," which position was wrongly attributed to his brother Sidney E. in the H. B. F. This famous orchestra continued as it had begun in 1871 with four of the Brigham brothers in its membership, until 1895, when it was divided; William H. continued as leader and the name was unchanged, and Harry E. became the head of an orchestra which took his name. For a number of years both these organizations continued in this way and were very popular. Some years ago Mr. W. H. Brigham retired from active work, but occasionally contributed music for social events. He took part in P. S. Gilmore's great Jubilee in Boston in 1872. For a long period he was leader of the Cadet Band, and choir-master of the Universalist and Methodist churches in Marlboro. The ninth generation of Brighams in Marlboro have lost a true gentleman and artist.
- viii Sidney E.<sup>9</sup> Brigham was not the leader of the musical organization known as "Brigham's Orchestra" but was one of its members. The word "band" should not have been applied to this organization, as given in the H. B. F. He res. in Westboro, with his wife, Nettie (Forbush), and d. there in Oct., 1925. Ch. additions: 1 Cynthia Mary<sup>10</sup> Brigham, inheriting the musical talent of the family, is an organist, holding responsible positions; 2 Sidney (not Sydney) Eugene Brigham, Jr., is a baritone singer; m. 26 Oct., 1913, Ella M. Gerry of Westboro, b. 22 Jan., 1884.
- ix Caroline E. Brigham, d. 22 Oct., 1921, in her 65th yr.; m. Alfred W. Wickham of Scranton, Pa., where she is interred.
- x George A. Brigham, a musician, res. in Marlboro.
- xi Harrison Ellsworth Brigham and his wife, Annie E. (Pond), res. in Marlboro. In the 3d line of the paragraph corresponding to this section in the H. B. F. delete the word "band"; it should read "orchestra." Mr. Brigham has had a highly successful musical career at the head of his own organization, "The Harry E. Brigham Orchestra." In 1925 he celebrated his fiftieth anniversary as an orchestral player, having fulfilled 10,367 engagements. In the first election in Marlboro under the new charter in 1924 and 1925, he was elected President of the City Council.

693 MARTYN FREEMAN<sup>8</sup> BRIGHAM of Boston (1809-1897). Delete the foot-note on p. 476, H. B. F. Samuel Freeman of Watertown was the emigrant ancestor of Mr. Brigham and his brothers and sisters. Their Martyn ancestors were Michael<sup>1</sup> and Edward<sup>2</sup> of Boston, not Richard of Portsmouth. His wife, Elizabeth Maria (Smith), was descended from Francis Kendall of Woburn, and with her husband, through the Freemans, had descent from Alice (Carpenter) Southworth-Bradford, second wife of Governor William Bradford of Plymouth, Mass.; also from Governor Robert Treat of Conn., and other early colonists. Their dau.:

- iii Emma Elisabeth<sup>9</sup> Brigham, was the compiler of the First Volume of "The History of the Brigham Family" also of the Job Tyler Genealogy, published in two volumes; also prepared "Ancestral Records and Portraits," published in two volumes for the Colonial Dames of Baltimore, Md. She became interested in Women's Clubs and was president for two years of the Current Topics Club of Dorchester; was corresponding secretary of the Boston City Federation of Women's Clubs, and is a member of the Professional Women's Club of Boston. She is the author of Volume Two of "The History of the Brigham Family."

HARRY WHITING BRIGHAM
Athlete and Singer
Gave his life in the World War

ANTOINETTE (WHITING) BRIGHAM
Wife of Henry Martyn Brigham

HENRY MARTYN BRIGHAM (771)
Brooklyn, N. Y.
Attorney-at-Law

771 HENRY MARTYN<sup>8</sup> BRIGHAM of New York, and Brooklyn, where resides. A graduate of the University of Rochester, and a lawyer, specializing in patent and trade mark law; is a member of the Brooklyn Bar, Am. Patent Law and New York County Associations, and numerous clubs and societies. He invented a furnace for heat-treating big guns which was extensively used in the World War; also other valuable inventions which have come into common use. Interested in wild life, he drafted and procured the passage of important statutes; one permits the Conservation Commissioner to license, breed and sell game birds and animals which has resulted in a large and profitable industry; another prevents lawless trespass by sportsmen on farm lands. A writer of verse, descriptive of nature, he intends shortly to publish in book form. His wife, Marie Antoinette (Whiting), is a member of the Chaminade Choral Club. She is President of the New Era Club (1925); a member of the Nat. Soc. of N. E. Women, Brooklyn Colony, "Photoreone," Study, Shakespeare and Ex-presidents' clubs. Their only son:

- i Harry Whiting<sup>9</sup> Brigham, b. in Brooklyn, 19 Dec., 1890; d. at Camp McLellan, Anniston, Ala., 30 Jan., 1919; m. 11 Aug., 1913, Elizabeth Payson Prentiss, b. 2 Jan., 1894, in Dorset, Vt. Educated at the University of Va., he studied a year in Stuttgart, Germany. At Pine Bluff Camp, L. I., he won, during summer vacations, five medals in public speaking; developed unusual athletic ability as a middle distance runner, made many new records and won over 70 medals. From 1912 to 1918 he successfully engaged in the automobile business. Enlisting in Aug., 1918, he was sent to Camp Gordon, Ga., where he was assigned to the Personnel Dept., passed his own trade test examination exceptionally high, and was appointed Chief Examiner of Mechanics and Chauffeurs. The Dept. removed to Camp McLellan, Anniston, Ala., and he was placed on special detail to the Commander of the Camp. Because he wished to go overseas, he refused an appointment to an officers' training camp, was transferred to the Headquarters Detachment of the 9th Field Artillery, and placed in charge of transportation, as acting sergeant of the first-class. The armistice came a few days later and prevented the issuance of his warrant. Nearly three tedious months followed. "He made us all happy," a tent-mate wrote; "When we heard some one singing the boys would say, 'Here comes Brigham,' and we would forget our troubles," wrote another. In the last week of Jan., 1919, Harry and two others were stricken with influenza, all developed pneumonia and died within a few days of each other. Harry was to have been discharged on the 29th and died on the 30th. Beautiful memories of

Harry's life, his lovely voice, athletic prowess and happy temperament inspired a friend and the following lines were published in the Literary Digest of August 23, 1919, with this comment:

"It was not the lot of all who gave up their lives for their country to die on the field of action; but the sacrifice of those who died in training, or on the way to the front, is none the less cherished in the grateful remembrance of the Nation."

To HARRY WHITING BRIGHAM
Sweet Singer and Swift Runner
Who Died in the Service of His Country.

Ah, but the singer's song was sweet!
But the song is done.
Swift and sure were the runner's feet,
But the race is run.
And the ringing plaudits die,
And the laurels withered lie
In the dust of the futile years.

Was it for this the singer sang,
A wreath of faded bays?
Was it for this the plaudits rang
As the runner coursed o'er the ways?
Nay, for the runner's goal is won,
And the singer's song, but just begun,
Rings clear with the choring spheres.

802 DR. JOHNSON<sup>s</sup> BRIGHAM is of Des Moines, Ia., where he has resided for twenty-eight years as the State Librarian of Iowa. On March 11, 1926, he celebrated his 80th birthday, and on that occasion his friends of more than a quarter of a century gave voice to an admiration and regard which few men are privileged to receive. State and city rose as one man to do him honor. One friend wrote among other lines:

“Warder of books, preserver of the word,
 Gatherer and nurturer of the souls of men,
 Under these prairie skies new virtues bloom,
 New passions warm to fresh creative wills,
 And all their ardors center where you keep
 Your steadfast fortress in the stream of time,
 Hail to you, prophet of the pioneers!
 Hail to you, guardian of man’s living word.”

Mr. Brigham’s achievements in the literary world are many, but the friendships he has gathered along the way are manifold. In 1923 he was honored by the librarians of Iowa, who presented to him life membership in the American Library Association, and the amount was so far over-subscribed that it was a high testimony to the esteem in which he is held by members of his profession in Iowa. In 1925 Mr. Brigham was given the honorary degree of Litt.D. by Drake University. In 1907 he was elected its president by the Brigham Family Association, and he has been very faithful in taking the long journey East from his home to preside over the meetings, where he has been as welcome as at his own fireside. His home life has been ideal, Mrs. Brigham, who was Lucy Walker, being a home-maker and companion whose peer it would be difficult to find. Their delight in their two charming and talented daughters has been unmeasured. "An Old Man's Idyl," a novel which Dr. Brigham published some years ago, was brought out in a special edition as a wedding gift to his daughters. Besides this he has published "The Banker in Literature," "Life of James Harlan," "History of Des Moines," and "Iowa, Its History and Foremost Citizens." The estimate of a man is easily made when it is known in what esteem his family, intimate friends and fellow-citizens hold him, and in this respect our beloved Association president has first rank. # NINTH GENERATION

REVIEW

It has been said that the past was once "a vital and perplexing present." The compiler of these records and stories of nine to twelve generations has found this statement something better than a platitude, something more than a truism. To visualize, even in a small degree, the lives of the men and women of this race of Brighams brings us near to the heart of a people who, with high hopes for themselves or their children, wrought faithfully toward the upbuilding of our nation, and as pioneers made homes and settlements in crude towns and wild places. When the country was threatened by war, our record of Brighams in the Revolution, the Civil and the World Wars, is highly creditable. But, in "the arts of peace," the interests of justice, the work of the churches and schools, and in upholding high ideals in community and State our people have honored themselves and their name, as many pages in this and the first volume will attest.

There are few States in the Union, perhaps none, where descendants of Thomas Brigham of Yorkshire, England, have not laid foundations for homes, won success or struggled with adversity. There is nothing unusual in this; other families of the old stock have done the same; have reached high stations, acquired large wealth and social distinction. These things are not unknown to the Brighams. It is well, however, to emphasize a little the achievements of others whose names, as well as those of all their friends, "have been carved for many a year on the tomb" only, and would now be entirely forgotten but for such annals as these. As nearly all the heads of families in this portion of our book are living, there are few to mention in this ninth review.

Ervin Frank Brigham, coming down from Curtis and Capt. Edmund of Westboro, was one of the tall members of the race, and it is believed that nearly all the elders of this particular branch were men not under six feet in height. Mr. Brigham was born in the West, his grandfather being that wonderful pioneer who is mentioned in the story of the seventh generation.

He was a fruitgrower in Idaho, and his sons are now in Los Angeles, one an eminent surgeon. (See this vol., No. 810).

The sudden departure from life of Nathaniel Maynard Brigham of the Natick family, that wonderful singer, was a great shock to his friends and admirers who had enjoyed his voice and his lectures, particularly the one on the Grand Canyon.

Dr. Frank Fontanelle Brigham, son of the Westboro shoe-manufacturer, stepped outside the family business and became a physician, with fine prospects. His career was cut short at the early age of 44, and crushed hopes that had been cherished for him by the family and the community in Lynn, where he performed his very helpful life-work.

Some whose genealogical records occur under sections in the eighth generation are yet of the ninth, and mention of them belongs here.

William H. Brigham of Marlboro of the musical Cyrus Brigham family, left many friends among his townsmen, who had taken pride in his achievements as a leader of his orchestra, known all over New England. No more friendly spirit walked the streets of Marlboro, took part in its festivities or added more to the pleasure of life than William H. Brigham.

Rose Ella (Brigham) Coford, only daughter of Alasco D., and wife of William F. of New York, brought to the meetings of the Brigham Family Association the great charm of her presence, and her deep interest in the welfare of the association and the Brigham book. She gave to the laborers in the making of the book inspiration and hope for its future, which at times was sorely needed.

Scattered through the pages of this volume will be found notices of the services of the sons and daughters of our families who were in the World War. In three instances, at least, the supreme sacrifice was made.

Lieut. William Munroe Brigham, son of William M. and grandson of Addington M. of Marlboro, was killed in action, the only instance, so far as known, of one of the name laying down his life in battle in this war. (See No. 763, iii, this vol.)

Sergeant Harry Whiting Brigham, son of Henry Martyn Brigham of Brooklyn, N. Y., died in Camp McLellan, Anniston,

Ala., of pneumonia, nearly three months after the armistice. But for the apparently needless delay in his discharge from the Army, Harry's friends feel that his life need not have been sacrificed. (See No. 771, i, this vol.)

Ethel Percy Brigham of Chicago, daughter of Ernest Algernon Brigham, formerly of Marlboro and now of Los Angeles, died in 1922 as the result of an injury by the explosion of a shell near the roadside between Chateau Thierry and Belleau Wood, in 1919, after the war itself was over, but before she had finished her work in France and been discharged. (See No. 814, ii, this vol.)

Probably these are not the only instances of the loss of life because of the war among our people, but the three mentioned are significant of the spirit of the younger generations who served at home and abroad.

“Death has left many songs unsung, a myriad graves are filled, youth is blighted in this white winter men call death, and its cup is pressed to the lips of love.”

Yet, blessed are they who realize that these young lives are not wasted, that life is eternal and that its “symbol is a circle and not a straight line.”

It was stationed at Grande Blotterau, near Nantes. In April, 1919, when on leave for the first time, she was injured by the explosion of a shell near the roadside between Chateau Thierry and Belleau Wood. One of the young marines walking with her was killed, and the other badly injured, but she succeeded in getting assistance for him and did not give attention to her own injuries until he was safe at the Hospital. She herself was in the Hospital at Neuilly until the latter part of the next June, and under care of physicians until August, returning to America in September, 1919, receiving her discharge from Army Service shortly thereafter. She was not a nurse, but was attached to the Unit as a secretarial member. But she aided wherever and whenever possible, and gave of her strength untiringly. As the result, she lived but a little over two years after her return home. The heroes did not all wear the soldiers' uniforms nor engage in battle, in the late World War.

TWO BRIGHAM HOSPITALS

Under this title in Volume One of "The History of the Brigham Family," the testamentary provisions concerning the then proposed Brigham hospitals in Boston, Mass., made possible by the generosity of Peter Bent Brigham and his nephew and niece, Robert Breck Brigham and Elizabeth Fay Brigham, are fully set forth. In the years since the publication of that volume, these institutions have become a part of the life of the city of Boston, and since 1913 and 1914 have been carrying on their work of relief for persons residing in the city of Boston, the Peter Bent Brigham provision including the county of Suffolk.

Situated on South Huntington Avenue in Boston, the Peter Bent Brigham hospital now ranks in size, equipment and the eminence of its staff of doctors with the three largest hospitals in the city, the Massachusetts General, the City, and the Homeopathic hospitals. At its head is Dr. Harvey Cushing, surgeon-in-chief, whose work on the brain has placed him among the leaders of scientific research, with Dr. Henry A. Christian as physician-in-chief. The arrangement of the building has been pronounced by an eminent authority as ideal. It is divided into separate buildings called pavilions, each housing only a few wards. The patients are very fortunate in the amount of light and sunshine which the plan of the building permits them to receive. Porches are numerous and all patients can be easily moved out of doors. Mr. Brigham's wish was to provide hospital care for "sick persons in indigent circumstances," but it has been legally decided that the purpose of the will can be perfectly carried out if some paying patients are received, as long as their presence does not divert any of the money from the free patients. One pavilion with forty-seven beds is provided for private patients, and four sections with one hundred and seventy-eight beds are devoted to general wards. Adults are received for care "irrespective of race, creed or economic means." The hospital is operated under a close working agreement with Harvard University, whose medical school buildings are in the rear of the hospital. The out-patient department is conducted on a modern, distinctive plan, which obviates the necessity of long hours of waiting on the part of the patient, and allows the doctor more time for examination. More than sixty thousand persons availed themselves in 1925 of the opportunity to receive medical assistance of the highest quality. Social workers cooperate in this department concerning problem cases.

The Robert B. Brigham Hospital, situated on the summit of Parker Hill, in Boston, Dr. Louis M. Spear, physician-in-chief, with an exceptional staff of surgeons and consultants, receives specifically chronic and difficult cases and such as are incurable, chiefly of those unable to pay for treatment. Where the disease cannot be controlled or is hopeless, the patient is made as comfortable as possible during life. Many cases, with the special treatment provided by the hospital equipment, are restored to health and to a place in the world again. Arthritis, the most common cause of chronic helplessness, is frequently cured by the methods adopted, which are attracting so much attention from members of the medical profession that physicians are constantly visiting the institution to observe and study, with the intention of using these methods in their own communities. The hospital is taxed to its limit with the patients who can be received within its walls, and in addition many cases who remain in their homes, and do not need the daily supervision given in the hospital wards, are watched and given medical care for long periods of time by the doctors, nurses and other attendants of the hospital. The hygiene of such homes is carefully inspected and arranged, and great benefit often results both to the individual patient and members of the household. As in the case of the Peter Bent Brigham hospital, it has been decided by legal authority that such paying patients may be received as will not interfere with the work for the free patients. In 1924 the whole number of patients treated in the Public and Private Wards and in the Home Service Department was three hundred and sixty-three. The Occupational Therapy work, the Hydrotherapeutic branch, the Basal Metabolism tests, the Physiotherapy, Home Service and Dietary Departments, and the invaluable Laboratory, all combine to render the work of this hospital a great blessing to individuals and the community, a blessing, the value of which will be increasingly shown as the years pass.

APPENDIX B

GEORGE BRIGHAM born in Gessborough, Yorkshire, England, about 1798, came to America in a sailing vessel, being seven weeks upon the voyage. With him came his wife, Jane (Ward), and six sons. Numbers of his descendants live in New York and other states, and some are in Canada, where he settled. A grandson, Charles Orville Ray Brigham, who furnished this information, lives in Toronto, Canada. This line out of Yorkshire may possibly have an ancestry there similar to our own in the far distant past.

Out of Leicestershire, England, came DR. PHILIP S. BRIGHAM, who died in 1851 in Ann Arbor, Mich. The mother of his wife, Sophronia S. (Smith), was out of the Lee family. They had eight daughters.

ANDREW BRIGHAM was a Puritan in County Donegal, Urney, Ireland. His grandson, MARCUS DILL BRIGHAM, emigrated to Philadelphia in 1887, where he appears in the directory in later years. He had, in 1893, two sons and two daughters.

In Ottawa, Ill., ten children were born to CHARLES HENRY BRIGHAM, of Bremen, Germany, where he left a father when he emigrated to America about 1844. His children were born between 1859 and 1882.

Certain Brighams in Pennsylvania and elsewhere are descended from a WILLIAM BRIGHAM who emigrated to America in the 18th century, whose wife was of gentle birth. They settled in Franklin, Pa.

Tennessee contains a number of Brigham families descended from JAMES BRIGHAM, who emigrated about 1650 from Great Britain to the vicinity of Philadelphia with his brother Charles. The latter changed his name to Brigance. The descendants of James' greatgrandson, William Brigham, are rather numerous in Tennessee, where are also persons named Brigance.

JAMES HARVEY BRIGHAM settled in Louisiana, with his wife, Sarah Davidson (Caldwell), and on the flat boat on which they traveled down the Mississippi river with all their household goods, cattle and horses, twin sons were born. They had nine sons and two daughters. Miss Ophelia Polk Brigham of Abilene, Texas, sent in this information some years ago, in the effort to connect her family with Thomas<sup>1</sup> Brigham. She thought they moved to Louisiana in 1825 and were from Tennessee.

ABRAHAM BRIGHAM, who was born in Winchester, N. H., 10 June, 1751, and died in Chelsea, Vt., 24 July, 1829, was doubtless of the Thomas<sup>1</sup> line, but it has been impossible to place him in the correct family. He had a friendship with Henry Brigham of Barre, Mass., as evidenced by some letters, but they do not throw any light upon his origin. He was in the Revolution and served five years under Washington. After his death, his wife, Emma (Robbins) (1756-1846), drew a pension. His eldest son, Abraham (1782-1871), married Martha Hayward of Norwich, Vt. (1785-1881). They had seven daughters and two sons who reached adult age: Oramel Abraham, born in Chelsea, Vt., 1831, lived in Lowell, Mass., over fifty years; his brother Cortez Thomas, born in 1834, lived in St. Johnsbury, Vt., in 1903; had sons.

We regret that correspondence with many persons bearing the name of Brigham has been futile, because the information they could give of their lineage was not sufficient to allow of their inclusion among the descendants of Thomas Brigham of Yorkshire, England, and Cambridge, Massachusetts.
